GET YOUR "ANSWERS" TO-DAY.

1/21.

Daily Mirror

FOUNTAIN PENS

Sold at 2/6 to advertise the "Daily Mirror" at all Messrs. W. H. Smith & Son's Bookstalls.

No. 263.

Registered at the G. P. O. as a Newspaper.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1904.

One Halfpenny.

BETROTHAL OF THE KAISER'S HEIR.

The German Crown Prince and the Duchess Cecilie of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, whose engagement has just been announced. The Crown Prince, who will also assume the title of King of Prussia on succeeding to the throne of the Hohenzollerns, was twenty-two last May. The Duchess Cecilie is a charming girl of eighteen, and a sister of the Grand Duke Frederick Francis IV. of Mecklenburg-Schwerin.

CATS IN CLOVER.

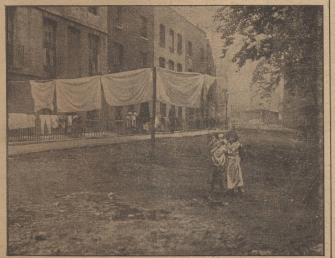

Fulmer Lotho, orange-eyed, red tabby, English Queen, one of Lady Decies's champion cats.—(Drawn for the "Mirror" by Louis Wain.) — Continued on page 9.

"THE CHEVALEER."

Mr. Arthur Bourchier as a showman in Mr. Henry Arthur Jones's new play, "The Chevaleer," at the Carrick.

LONDON'S DERELICT STREET.

It is situated just opposite the Royal Free Hospital in Gray's Inn-road. Some of the inhabitants hang their washing out to dry across the pavement. Pots and pans and pools of stagnant water are its chief features. (See page 4.)

THE WINDSOR FIRE.

This motor-car is said to have been worth over one thousand pounds, it being fitted with the very latest machinery. Here you see all that remained of the car after the great fire at the Windsor Electric Light Works.

BIRTHS.

BUTLER.—On September 5, at 4, Stanford-avenue, Has-socks the wife of Harry Butler, of a son: DURHAM.—On September 3, at High Easter, St. Faith's-road, W. Norwood, the wife of George Arthur Durham, of a son. HUME-ROTHERY.—On September 2, at The Pines, Tivoli, Cheitenham, the wife of J. H. Hume-Rothery, of a daughter.

JACO-TTET.—On September 3, at "Neuchâtel." Stanthorperoad, Streatham, S.W., the wife of Charles F. Jacottet, of

WALTER.—On the 2nd inst., at 29, Sloane-court, S.W., the wife of John Walter, of a son (stillborn).

MARRIAGES.

MARRIAGES.

CHIPT—TAPP—On Spelamber 3, at the parish church of St. Pancras, William Henry Kolly Clift, eldest son of William Clift, of 5c. Proglecover, the Co. Or Diverse of th

DEATHS.

DURTON—On the 2nd inst, at Southusa, Annie Margaret, widow of the late Rev. Richard Button, of Alventoke, and daughter of the late W. H. Alichia, surgeon, of East Mailling, Kont, aged 70.

Mailling, Kont, aged 70.

Margaret, Milling, Kont, aged 90.

Fingmorton-street, aged 66.

Etwick—On Spitember 5, Margaret, wife of Charles Leven, Catchelling, Eduler, and 9, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street, aged 66.

Etwick—On Spitember 2, 1904, at 21, Lanadowne-creecest, Leanington, William Moore, formerly of Northowram Hall, Halifax, Yorke, and Knightcote House, Leamington, in his 68th year.

PERSONAL.

URIAH.—Neither write nor call. Both are risky. I will send when the sky cleart.—MIRIAM.
BRIGHTON,—The heroine of the piece is working like a steam engine, but necessity for great exertion will be over steam engine, but necessity for great exertion will be over the control of the control of Yard.

* The above advertisements (which are accepted up to 5 mm, for the next day; land) are charged at the rate of 6 ight words for it. 6d. in 12 mm, and the rate of eight words for it. 6d. in 12 mm, and the post with postal can be brought to the office or sent by post with postal order. Trade advertisement in Personal Column, eight words for 4e., and 6d. per word after.—Address Advertisement Manager, "Mirrori," 2, Carmelite's, London.

THEATRES and MUSIC-HALLS.

CRITERION

Lessee, Sir Chas. Wyndham,
Manager, Mr. Frank Curzon,
Winnie Barth, 18, 30, Mart., Wel. and Str., at 3.0,
Winnie Barth, 18, 30, Mart., Wel. and Str., at 3.0,
Mr. Eric Lewis, Mr. Honry Ulart, Mr. Robb Herwood,
Miss Dorn Barton, Mrs. Charles Mality, Box Office 10—10. CRITERION

IMPERIAL on EVERY EVENING at 8.30.
FIRST MATTREE SATURDAY NEXT, Sept. 10, at 2.30, BOX Office open 10 to 10, Tele. 3193 Gerrard.

CHAFTES DRIVEY

SHAFTESBURY.

EVERY EVENING at 9.18.

Mr. Henry W. Berney & American Co., in PROPERTY WENNESDAY and BATURDAY, 2.15.

Box Office 10 to 10.

GT. JAMES S.— Mr. GEORGE ALEXANDER B.20 will appear To-MidHT and EVERY EVENING, at B.20 will appear To-MidHT and EVERY EVENING, at Justus Miles Forman, by Sydney Grandy, entitled Justus Miles Forman, by Sydney Grandy, entitled FIRST MATTREE RATURIDAY NEXT, and EVERY WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY following, at 2.20.

MR. ROBERT ARTHUR S. DONDON THEATERS.

MR. ROBERT ARTHUR S. DONDON THEATERS.

MR. ROBERT ARTHUR S. DONDON THEATERS.

REMAINS ON THEATER, Tel. 1006 HopBORNEL STATE STATE STATE STATE STATE

BORNEL STATE STATE STATE STATE

CORONET THEATER.—Tel. 1,273 Kens.

TONIGHT at 6. MATHER SATURDAY 3,20.

MISTEL STATE STATE STATE STATE STATE

AND LENA ASHWELL

AND

AMUSEMENTS, CONCERTS, Etc.

ORVSTAL PALACE

ORVSTAL PALACE

ORVSTAL PALACE

ORTHONATIONAL SPOINTS AND FOODS EXPECTIVEN.

MILLIANTIONAL SPOINTS AND FOODS EXPECTIVEN.

MAKEN PRINTED MACHINE

WASHINGTON TOPPS TOPPS TOPPS AND FOODS

TOPPS TOPPS TOPPS AND FOODS

TOPPS TOPPS AND TOPPS AND PROMENADE CONCERTS.

EVERY EVENING at 3.

EVERY EVENING at 3.

Tickets, 1s, 2s, 3s, 5s, nead agents, Chappell's, Queen's Hall best-effect, All Properties at the control of the control o

ROBERT NEWMAN, Manager.

THIS IS A PICTURE OF IT.

Of what? Don't you know! Why, of the Beautiful "Daily Mirror" Camera now being offered as an advertisement at the absurd price of Three Shillings and Ninepence. You should get one at once.

MAKES PERFECT PHOTOGRAPHS.

AN IDEAL HOLIDAY COMPANION. BUY ONE.

BUY ONE. BUY ONE. BUY ONE.

BUY ONE. BUY ONE.

BUY ONE.

BUY ONE. AN IDEAL HOLIDAY COMPANION. MAKES PERFECT PHOTOGRAPHS.

COMPLETE

Developing & Printing CONTAINING :-

2 Dishes, Develop and Fix. 1 Printing Frame. 1 Folding Draining Rack.

1 Box Six Dry Plates.
1 Packet: Printing Paper.
1 Packet of Mounts.
1 Dark-room Lamp.
1 Bottle Developing Solution.
1 Bottle Toning Solution.
1 Bottle Toning Salts.
1 Book Instructions.

Cut out this Coupon and post to the CAMERA DEPARTMENT, "Daily Mirror," 2, Carmelite Street, London, E.C.

Enclosed find p.o. for .. for which please send me, post free, the "Daily Mirror" Camera (3s. 111d., post free), and the Complete Printing and Developing Outfit (3s. 1d. post free). Name

See these CAMERAS and OUTFITS at the "Daily Mirror" Offices, 2, Carmelite Street, E.C., 45, New Bond Street, W., or the "Daily Mirror" Stall, Western Aroade, Earl's Court Exhibition.

HOUSES AND PROPERTIES.

Auctione.

THE OAKELEY PARK BUILDING ESTATE, Near Bahops Stortford, lierta,
The FIRST SALE of PLOTE on this new and important
MR. J. BROOKE STEWART will SELL some of the control of the c

E., or at the Station Platform barrier before the train departs.

Cheapest and best besside Land in Sussex.

Every pole, and best besside Land in Sussex.

Every pole, and the sussex best land in Sussex.

MOUNT PLEASANT ESTATE, five minutes from station, close to hisroour and pier; capital views of the sea and MESARS. PROTHEROE and MORRIS will MESARS. PROTHEROE and MORRIS will LAND, in Marquee on the Easte on FRIDAY. September 19th, at 2 pm. Roats free. No tithe land tax, or law costs, it desired. Plan, etc. land with return railway ticket. So, of the Vendor, Mr. F. G. Bodgson, 6 and 7, King Williamstreek, E.G.

where E.G.

WHITSPABLE-ON-SEA—Bay View Estate, cituate on the main road from Whitstable to Faversham and Canterbury, adjoining the Jolly Salier Inn, and commanding MESSEAL by AUCTION, in a Marquee on the Estate, on MONDAY, Sopt. 12th, at 2.30, 95 choice FREEHOLD
BUILDING LOTS, including 10 valuable orchard poist DUILLING LOTS, including 10 valuable orchard poist roads. Tithe, land tax, law costs, and deeds all free. Easy terms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special
cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special cerms. Plan, etc. (and with return railway ticket for special cerms.

Houses, Offices, Etc., to Let.

C'ATFORD, Dulwich, and Norwood.—Freehold or Leasehold Houses to let or sell; rents from £26 to £60; finished on improved principles.—Watt, Sangley Estate Offices (facing Town Hall), Catford. Telephone, 57, Reputord.

EVERY working man can, if he wishes, buy a house to immediate advances.—Particulars free on application, mentioning this paper, to W. W. Benham, 72, Bishopsgate-st without, E.

Leytonstone.

SANDOWN, I.W.—Six-toomed, comfortably furnished house, 21s.; also enjoyable bungalow residence, vacant 17th;
terms on application.—E. C. Burcham.

Land, Houses, Etc., for Sale.

A Noportunity for those who can close at once. Money wanted, consequent on a family bereavement. Nine wanted, consequent on a family bereavement. Nine the state of the s DUNGALOWS for weak-ends and summer holidays, with are of land; freshold, £125; free deeds; instainents. Homatesda (0), Ltd. 72, Essents, Strand. W.C.

FREEHOLDS.-Ten Villag: close station; fitted every convenience; let first-clase tenants; producing £130 yearly after paying outgoings; price £3,100; £2,225 can remain at $2 = 2.2. 2, 2 by-red, Letonous-tenants.

PARTNERSHIPS AND FINANCIAL.

A. A.—"HAw Money Makes Money,"—Post free to all mentioning this paper. Will clearly show anybody with £1 capital nywards how large profits may be made. £10 can make from £8 to £10 profit per week! Not so £10 can make from £8 to £10 profit per week! Not so £10 profit per week! Not s

Tive Pounds to £500 ADVANCED, on shortest notice, an approved note of hand, on your own security: reparation of the pounds of hand, on your own security: reparation of the pounds of th

"HOW TO MAKE MONE" (not free)—Everyme with

H a few pounds spare capital should write for above pamphlet, showing how £10 may be invested and return
£2 10s. weekly profit; large or smaller amounts in proportions necessary in the or speculation; an opervious expeHoward, Marshall, and Co., 105, Leadeniall-st, London.

I OANS.—210 upwards; householders, tradesmen, etc.; repay by post.—Bridge, Broadway, Woking.

MONEY to INVEST PRIVATELY.—A gestleman is pro-pared to lend to responsible persons requiring tem-porary assistance on note of hand alone, without the ordinary moneylender's routine.—Apply 1,551, "Daily Mirror," 2, Carmelite-St.

C to £1,000 Advanced to householders and others on our approved note of hand; no sureties required; trade bills discounted on shortest active; particle and other active and the state of the control of

HOLIDAY APARTMENTS TO LET AND WANTED.

BRIGHTON.—Johannesburg Boarding Establishment, Grand Parade; moderate charges; thoroughly comfort-able and homelike.

GREAT YARMOUTH.-Garibaldi Hotel for gentlemen; moderate terms; liberal table.-Powell, Proprietor. MARGATE (Cliftonville).—Very comfortable boarding-house; sea view; tennis; excellent cuisine; terms moderate.—14, Dalby-sq. Stamp.

R AMSGATE.—Cantwell's Popular Board residence; 16s. 6d. inclusive; musical.—Vale House, Westeliff-rd.

EDUCATIONAL.

C HATHAM HOUSE COLLEGE, Ramsgate.—Founded 94 parat.—High-class school for the sons of gentlemen; Army professions, and commercial He; caled torps attached boys under 13: 48-page illustrated prospectus sent on application to the Headmuster.

Cation to the Headmaster.

M.R. LANSDOWNE COTTELL'S

M. LANSDOWNE COTTELL'S

Operatic Classes, Lon don Conservatoire of Music (branches Birmingham and Canden Lodge, Littlehampton); propactus illustrating remarkable successes.—Secretary, 62, Queen s-vi, Bayewater SINGING, Piano.-Miss Worms gives Lessons, 1, Torriane avenue, Camden-rd. Voice Production.

Other Small Advertisements appear on page 16

RACE FOR SAFETY.

Russians' Great Effort to Reach Mukden.

EXCITING SITUATION.

Kuropatkin's Fate Depends on the Issue.

PORT ARTHUR HOLDS OUT.

General Kuropatkin's army and General Kuroki's forces are engaged in a race to Mukden.

It is still an open question whether the Russians can escape General Kuroki's enveloping movement.

Four days' severe fighting at Port Arthur resulted in heavy losses on both sides. The Japanese expect two months' more fighting.

The great question of the Manchurian campaign—the fate of Kuropatkin's army—is still undecided.
Reuter's correspondent at St. Petersburg, telegraphing last might, says it is officially tatted that the untted Russian forces are now north of Ventat, with the exception of a detachment which has been left at that place to cover the retreat.
Simultaneously, however, the same correspondent says that the Japanese are swarming across the Taitse, near Pensi-lo, the original starting point of the turning movement. The bulk of the Japanese forces are marching direct on Mukden.
A later message says that a telegram from General Kuropatkin, dispatched yesterday evening, appears to indicate that his army and that of Ceneral Kuroki, are racing each other for Mukden and the result is still in doubt.

DEPENDS ON KUROKI.

DBPENDS ON KUROKI.

The position is therefore a most exciting one. Everything depends upon whether General Kuroki will be able to move with sufficient apeed to strike the railway in front of the retreating Russians, and stop their further progress north.

If General Kuroki this succeeds in getting astride the railway, General Kuropatkin will have to fighthis way through. His forces are probably numerically apperior to the 100,000 men which General Kuroki is supposed to have under his command, but he will have to gain a rapid and decisive victory or Oyana's army will be upon him. Another element which may develop into something sensational is the reported appearance of a Russian relief force under General Linievitch at a point near Mukden. If this is true, General Kuroki may find himself in a position of extreme peril, open to simultaneous attacks from General Kuroki from General Constitution of the control o

STACKELBERG CRUSHED.

STACKELBERG CRUSHED.

The report that General Stackelberg, with 25,000 men, had been cut off and completely wiped out to the west of Liao-yang is repeated from St. Petersburg yesterday. It is true that General Kuropatkin announced that General Stackelberg's forces had joined the main body at Yentai on Saturday, but fin a later message that night General Kuropatkin reported that General Stackelberg had been cut off and crushed, and it was this check that 'decided the Generalismo to evacuate Liao-yang. That the evacuation must have been suddenly decided upon is apparent from the report that the Russians were obliged to abandon 200 guns at Liao-yang.

Liao-yang.

30,000 RUSSIANS LOST.

30,000 RUSSIANS LOST.

General Kuropatkin has telegraphed to the Tsar that the enemy's losses in the fighting near Liaoyang aumber 30,000 men, and he has asked for another 200,000 men. The Tsar has decided to immediately mobilise 100,000 men for the front. Severe fighting has been in progress at Port Arthur since August 27, in which the Japanese are said to have lost 8,000 and the Russians 3,000 men in four days. The garrison is now believed to comprise only 12,000 men, but they are making such a brilliant and stubborn defence that the Japanese do not expect to reduce the fortress under two months.

YANKEE RULER IN KOREA.

An agreement has been signed by the Govern-An agreement has been signed by the Governments of Japan and Korea under which the financial and diplomatic advisers to the Korean Government will be Mr. Magata, Director of the Revenue Bureau in Tokio, and Mr. Stevens, Counsellor of the Japanese Legation in Washington.

(This, says Laffan, will practically make Mr. Stevens Vicerory, as his office carries with it powers similar to Lord Cromer's in Egypt.

SHELLING PORT ARTHUR.

Japs Secure Another Position After Bloody Work.

Reuter's correspondent at Chifu sends news of an important Japanese success at Port Arthur,

The Japanese have again attacked the forts, taking, after a bloody bayonet fight, a position near the railway, not more than a mile from the harbour.

From this point of vantage the Japanese began a terrible bombardment of the town, the shells also damaging the ships in the inner harbour, one being disabled.

Reuter's Chinese messenger was put to work carrying Russian dead and wounded upon entering Port Arthur. He escaped on Thursday, and boarded a junk, which was promptly overhauled by Japanese destroyers. Seven copies of the "Novy Krai" being found Seven copies of the "Novy Krai being roung concealed on the messenger's person, he was take to Dalny in chains, and was beaten and suspended by his pigtail with the object of his being com-pelled to admit that he was a spy. He was finally recognised by the Chinese official interpreter, who red his release

PRINCE AND SENTRY.

Faithful Soldier Prepares to Shoot King's Son.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.) BELGRADE, Monday.

A strange incident is reported from Belgrade. The other evening, when the Crown Prince of Servia left the royal salon on his way to his own rooms, he passed by the guard, and, for a joke, rooms, he passed by the guard, and, for a joke, tried to take the gun out of the sentry's hands.

The sentry told him sharply to let the gun alone and amuse himself elsewhere. The prince was irritated, and commanded the sentry to give up his gun, but the man refused, saying that his orders were to die rather than relinquish his weapon.

The prince asked him if he knew to whom he was speaking. The sentry replied that if the King himself had given him the order he would not obey. The prince then tried to take the gun by force, but the sentry, repulsing him, put his weapon to his shoulder and cocked it.

This was enough for the prince. He retired, and told his father; but the King only sent for the sokiler and rewarded him.

BECK'S TRIUMPH.

Received in Audience by the Prime Minister of Norway.

Mr. Adolf Beck, who has arrived at Christiania, has been the object of something like a triumphal Everywhere sympathy has been shown him. He was received in audience by the Prime Minister, was received in autoence by the Frime Minister, Dr. Hagerup, who greeted him most kindly. Dr. Hagerup said King Oscar had written the Norwegian Minister in London expressing his deepest sympathy, and requesting his Excellency to use every effort to secure adequate compensation. The Prime Minister expressed absolute confidence that the British nation would not do things be behaved.

tiente that the British and be would not do things by halves.

"Had an Englishman been wrongfully arrested or convicted and sentenced in our country." he said, "we would have been compelled to make due reparation, as our laws provide for compensation in such-cases."

ONE OF THE "PIRATES" REACHED.

ST. PETERSBURG. Monday.

Sr. Petersaurg, Monday.
The Ministry for Foreign Affairs has received information that the instructions of the Russian Government have been successfully communicated to the Russian "volunteer" cruiser, Petersburg, in South African waters.

It is pointed out that these instructions were to be conveyed to the Petersburg as well as the Smolensk, of which there is at present no news.—

The owners of the steamer Kirkwall, of Cardiff, which is lying at Vigo watched by a Russian cruiser, deay she has anything contraband on board.

A WELL-MERITED HONOUR.

PARIS, Monday.

Sir Thomas Barclay has been appointed an officer of the Legion of Honour.

The "Figaro" says that never was a distinction more merited.—Reuter.

WOMAN HANGED AS SPY. SEVENTEEN YEARS ASLEEP.

How a Japanese Girl Died for Her Country.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.) Moscow, Thursday.

Captain Perventseff, who has just arrived here, invalided from Manchuria, has given to an interviewer the following, among several other tragic

"It was during our rapid and unfortunate retreat from Telissu. Two of our Cossacks, pushing forward a dwarf, marched up to Riabinin with the words, 'Your Honour, this is a Japanese.'

"An ugly, little, clean-shaven mannikin, dressed in Chinese garments, stood before us. He had in Camese garments, stood before us. The had been caught by the soldiers among the coolies, writing on slips of yellow paper, and our men, who suspect everyone, naturally suspected him.

"As we had no time for formallities, he was tried of the spot. There were no papers of value upon him, but those he had proved unmistakably that he

on the spot. There were no papers of value upon him, but those he had proved unmistakably that he was a spy. He was sentenced to be hanged.

"All the time the little fellow, with a contemptuous look upon his ugly yellow face, kept chattering in good Russian, 'I don't deny it. Do what you like!' 'At any rate, they can meet death,' commented R.

"At four o'clock he was strung up, and, when the poor wretch's body fell from the cart, a little silver chain jerked from underneath his tunic and glistened a moment in the sun.

"An hour later we were sitting together, pouring vodka into our tea-pannikins, when in rushed one of the spy's captors. 'Your Honour,' he shouted, 'it's a woman! We were taking this. .'.' And he put in my hard the silver chain with a pendant locket, containing the portrait of an unmistakable European in Russian officer's uniform. 'I looked at the Cossack in amazement, thinking he was drunk. 'The Jap's a woman,' he repeated. 'Go and see for yourself, your Honour.'

"Good God, what a race of people!' said R. A terrible silence fell upon us all.'

ARSENIC MYSTERY.

Another Child's Body To Be Exhumed at St. Helens.

Steps are being taken for the exhumation of another child's body at St. Helens as a result of the police investigations into the circumstances of the death of Sarah Ann, Jones. Yesterday Joseph and Ellen Burndred were remanded at the police court on the charge of wilfully murdering this girl by administering poison.

The evidence showed that the girl Jones was boarded out with the Burndreds in August, 1901, by the Cuardians of Whiston Workhouse. Four by the Chardians of Whiston Workhouse. Four days late her life was insured by the prisoners, and again also in February of this year. The girl died on August 7, and subsequently her body was disintered.

A Liverpool analyst stated that an autopsy disclosed the presence of sufficient arsenic to cause death.

The prisoners have had a family of thirteen children, twelve of whom died in infancy. It has now been determined to exhume the body of Joseph Burndred, aged three months, who died on September 7, 1900.

"AND HE WAS LEFT LAMENTING."

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, Monday.

A tragic scene took place between the communes of Gray and Rigny on Saturday.

The pretty young daughter of a farmer, named Simon, eloped with her lover. The father followed in pursuit. He came up with the couple, and a terrible fight took place between him and the lover.

The daughter escaped from the carriage, and while the fight was going on ran towards the Saone. The father, divining her intention, followed, but was too late. His daughter had flung herself in the

ROBBERS ATTACK A CARAVAN.

TANGIER, Monday.

A specie caravan from Fez has been attacked by robbers at Akbal-Hamra, about twenty-five miles from Tangier.

from Tangier.

The muletcers succeeded in escaping to a place of safety with about 30,000 dollars, leaving only one mule and 6,000 dollars in the hands of the robbers.—Retuer.

SHOT BY A COMRADE.

The tragedy which occurred at the military bar-

The tragedy which occurred at the military barracks, Sheemess, last week was inquired into by the coroner yesterday.

Gunner Heanue, when about to be arrested by a military escort for a petty theft of fish, shot Bombardier Chew with a sporting gun, and afterwards turned the weapon on himself.

The jury decided that Chew died from a gunshot wound inflicted by Heanue, and that the latter committed Suicide while temporarily insane.

Female Rip Van Winkle's Strange Story.

RESTORED TO HEALTH,

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS. Monday.

The "Matin" publishes some wonderful details about a woman who has slept for seventeen years, and has only been awakened by an alarm of fire.

These particulars are given by Dr. Paul Faraz, an eminent medical psychologist, who has studied the case.

the case.

Gésine M.—, who lives in a little German village, is the victim of this strange experience. Born in 1890, she enjoyed good health until in 1877 she fell from a cart and hurt her head.

Bad pains followed, and she sometimes lost consciousness. Then a semi-continuous sleep supervened and lasted for three months. After sleeps lasting days, weeks, and months, on November 23, 1896, she commenced a slumber which lasted seventeen years, until the alarm of fire finally roused her. How was she fed? Quite naturally. When she was hungry she made queer sounds in her throat and gaped, and food cut up into small pieces was given her.

DEAF AND NEARLY BLIND

DEAF AND NEARLY BLIND.
Gésine's senses during her sleep were diminished in some cases and maintained or increased in others. She was deaf. She was nearly blind, but turned her head away from light.
The sense of touch was absent, but taste was intact. If food was given to her that she did not like she clenched her teeth.
The sense of smell was quite abnormal ta strength. A doctor of the family, who had elsewhere dressed a wound with eysol, provoked a sort of protestation from her when he approached her bed, and she always showed that she recognised a stranger by her nose.

stranger by her nose.

When she came back to life her condition of mind was curious. She called for a sister who seventeen years ago had shared her bed. She viewed her father's aged appearance with stupefaction. She wanted to know why her brother did not wear his uniform (this brother was in military service in

She asked for her mother, but her mother had during the seventeen years. On hearing this she asked to rer momer, but her moner data died during the seventeen years. On hearing this the newly-awakened woman wept bitterly. Her senses became regular again. She could atand up, but she had to relearn how to walk. She did not sleep well, owing to a fear that she would Gay, bright, and healthy, she has gone straight back to woman's work of various kinds.

The second secon UNWELCOME LOVER.

Austrian Count Pursues American Heiress Across Two Continents.

The strange love affair of an Austrian count had an abrupt and unpleasant ending in Montreux, Switzerland, yesterday.

For nearly a year past this man had pursued an American heiress with unwelcome attentions. The young lady, who is a famous beauty in St. Louis, met the alleged Count at a ball in Chicago last October.

She was then engaged to a young American, buf.

She was then engaged to a young American, but, although he was informed of this, the Austrian persisted in making love to her.

To avoid a scandal she was taken by her aunt to Europe. But the lover followed her and sent her imploring letters in London.

He dogged her to Paris, and eventually sent her a threatening letter to her hotel in Montreux.

This led to his downfall. The young lady appealed to an American gentleman staying at the hotel, who called on the supposed count, and threatened him that if he did not leave in six hours the matter would be placed in the hands of the police.

After some bluster this strangely persistent lover gave way, and left hurriedly for Zurich.

KING LEOPOLD AT DOVER.

The Alberta, with the King of the Belgians on board, steamed into Dover harbour yesterday, and came alongside the Prince of Wales pier.

His Majesty was seen standing on the upper deck dressed in a light suit and yachting cap, and scanning closely with a pair of glasses the new harbour works, in which he seemed greatly in-

His Majesty afterwards landed.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER.

Our special weather forecast for to-day ist Gusty southerly winds, cloudy and unsettled, rain at times; normal temperature.

Lighting-up time: 7.33 p.m. Sea passages will be rough in the west, moderate or rather rough in the south and

AMOROUS PRINCE.

Forgotten Flames of the Kaiser's Son.

HIS CHOSEN BRIDE.

The Kaiser's announcement of the engagement of his eldest son to the Duchess Cecilie of Mecklenburg-Schwerin has caused the liveliest satisfaction in Germany.

The people are glad to hear that the fickle heir to the throne, who has so often been fascinated by ladies who were not of royal blood, is settled at last, and the fact that he is engaged to a German Princess makes the news additionally welcome.

Congratulations from all the royalties of Europe, most of whom are related to the happy couple, have been arriving hourly.

Ever since the Prince came of age, in May, 1900, rumour has chosen many brides for him, two of our English Princesses, Princess Margaret of Connaught and Princess Ena of Battenberg, being among those mentioned, and there were good grounds for believing a match had been arranged with one of the Cumberland Princesses. Apart from rumoured royal alliances, the Ger-man Crown Prince, who is an amorous young man, has had many "affairs."

Fascinated by Actresses.

Last year he boldly announced his intention of giving up his titles and honours and marrying the beautiful Miss Geraldine Farrar, who was acting at the Royal Opera House in Berlin. But the lady behaved with praiseworthy propriety, and would not accept the Prince's advances, so the matter fell to the graund.

may benaved with praisewortung propriety, and would not accept the Prince's advances, so the matter fell to the ground.

Miss Gladys Deacon, an American beauty and heiress, fascinated the Crown Prince when he came to England in 1901 and paid a round of visits here. He first met Miss Deacon at Blenheim, while staying with the Duke and Duchess of Marl-borough, and later on in Scotland at Dunrobin, where they were the guests of the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland.

The friendship is said to have ripened so fast that the Prince proposed before he returned to Germany, and at every stage of his homeward journey sent off postcards to the lady.

Miss Eleanor Dreisel, whom the Prince met while a student at Bonn, did not know of his high rank, and returned his affection. But when his identity was disclosed to her, she promptly gave him up, in spite of his vows and protestations.

Sincers and Dancers.

Singers and Dancers.

Miss Isadore Duncan, a dancer, and Miss Edyth Walther and Miss Bessie Abbot, both opera singers, have, in turn, fascinated this susceptible young man, who now, at the age of twenty-two, is going to settle down.

The Prince is a personable, young fellow, who excels in all outdoor sports, and is, besides, a fine horseman and a keen soldier.

The Princes who is to be his bride is a typical German young lady, of middle height, fair-haired, and pretty. She is only eighteen years old, but is very accomplished, and speaks several languages perfectly.

perfectly.

Duchess Cecilie is the younger sister of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who recently married Princess Alexandra of Cumberland.
Her name was recently mentioned as that of a probable bride for the Hereditary Grand Duke

Michael of Russ rtraits of the royal pair are reproduced upon

MOTOR RACE ON SANDS.

Automobile Track by the Shore of Dublin Bay.

For the first time in the United Kingdom, automobile races will take place to-day on the sea shore.

The spot chosen is a beautiful stretch of sand on the shores of Dublin Bay, between Portmarnock and Malahide, known to the citizens as "The Velvet Strand."

At low tide there is a stretch of firm, dry s At low tide there is a section of min, up and the to six miles in length, and a quarter of a mile wide. On this novel track, which is as level as a billiard table, several racing cars were yesterday testing their capabilities in preparation for the Irish Automobile Club's races, which commence to-day.

HISTORY OF A CRIME.

In response to numerous requests, Mr. George R. Sims's articles on the Beck scandal, appearing originally in the "Daily Mail," have been reprinted in the form of a pamphlet. This little book, "Two King's Pardons—The Martyrdom of Adolf Beck," is published at 3d., and contains, in addition to Mr. Sims's articles, verbatim reports of the various trials which constitute this judicial scandal. It may be obtained at all bookstalls and news-agents.

DISAPPOINTED SWIMMER.

Cross-Channel Attempt Postponed Until This Afternoon.

Rough weather again caused the Channel swim to be postponed yesterday.

During Sunday night a stiff breeze sprang up which had grown to half a gale yesterday morning. It blew up a nasty sea, and as it came from the south would have been right in the swimmer's face.

With wind and waves against him the feat would have been impossible.

Weidman was keenly disappointed at the manner in which the weather is baffling his plans. oped," he said last night, "to have been able to start to-day.

"But the sea is now pretty calm, and the wind has dropped. Prospects seem as favourable as they can be, and I hope to start for that Mirror trophy

If the weather permits the present arrangements to be carried out Weidman will start from the Lydden Spout about four o'clock this afternoon.

DERELICT LONDON STREET.

Filthy Thoroughfare Uncontrolled by Any Municipal Council.

On the west side of Gray's Inn-road is a small, dirty, mean street over which no vestry or borough council exercises the slightest control.

Prospect-terrace is its name. At one end is a spiked barrier which is thrown across the thoroughfare one day a year to show that it is private pro-

The owner of this street is said to be a well-known rector of a London parish.

Prospect-terrace is indescribably filthy. one side are a row of dirty houses, inhabited to a one sate are a row of dray nouses, mannered to a great extent by men and women of the lowestclass; upon the other side is a blank wall. A scheme to pull these wretched hovels down and build in their place a modern dwelling building is said to have been opposed by the clergyman owning the roadway.

When a Mirror representative visited Prospectterrace yesterday, washed clothes hung across the street and along the railings in front of the houses.
Deep hollows in the road were choked with filthy refuse, dirty tins and broken household utensils were scattered here and there, while tiny children with ragged nondescript garments and pallid faces played listlessly in the thick, foul mud.
Such is London's derelict street, of which we while he refuse were the foresters of the property of the property publish a picture upon the front page

RUINED BY FOREIGNERS.

Imported Goods Cause Unprecedented Distress in the Cloth Trade.

The terrible depression in the cloth trade has created unprecedented distress in Stroud, the centre of the trade in the West of England, and the surrounding districts,

Never in the history of the neighbourhood have rate collectors had so much trouble in getting money. At present eight parishes of union are in money. At present eight parishes of union are in arrear with poor rate, and overseers have been notified to appear at the next meeting of guardians to explain matters.

Mills have for some time past been closing in all directions, and bills are posted up in all districts advertising mills and machinery for sale. Foreign competition is said to be the cause of the trade-decreasion.

P. AND O. MAY LEAVE MARSEILLES.

According to the Paris "Temps," Sir Thomas Sutherland has declared that if the Marseilles strikes are persisted in he will regretfully transfer the Peninsular and Oriental service from Marseilles the Pennsular and Oriental service from Marseilles to Genoa.—Exchange.

The P. and O. steamer Arabia, from Bombay, arrived yesterday morning, with 220 passengers on board. She will sail for London without discharging her cargo for Marseilles.—Reuter.

MUNICIPAL DOCTORS.

Zurich is making a curious experiment of medical communism.

Each inhabitant is to pay a tax of 3s. 74d.

annually. The total, about £20,000, will be divided among forty doctors chosen by the municipality, who will, for their annual salary of £500, attend the sick of Zurich during twelve months.

ROBBING HIS SWEETHEART.

A private in the Garrison Artillery, named Arthur Henry Hutchinson, pleaded guilty at Marlborough-street to stealing £3 belonging to his sweetheart, a chambermaid at the Carlton Hotel. The girl pleaded for the prisoner to be let off. Mr. Kennedy: A man who acts so meanly de-serves punishment. Three months' hard labour.

ROYAL TRAVELLERS.

Why the Queen Hastened to Leave London.

Yesterday afternoon the King left King's Cross for Doncaster, where, during the race meeting, he will be entertained by Lord and Lady Savile at their picturesque home, Rufford Abbey.

His Majesty, who was heartily cheered by the crowd assembled to witness his departure, wore a soft brown hat and brown tweed suit.

A gay little crowd of notabilities left by the royal

A gay little crowd of notabilities left by the royal train, which steamed out just before two o'clock. This is the fourth time Lord and Lady Savile will have had the honour of entertaining his Majesty, and the party at Rufford Abbey is likely to be of the merriest. Among the guests are the Portuguese Ambassador, Earl and Countess Cadogan, Viscount and Viscountess Churchill, and Lord and Lady Farquhar.

A Lift for the King.

The arrangements at Doncaster racecourse for the royal visit are of an elaborate nature. When he arrives his Majesty will step into an electric lift, and by it taken into the royal box. At the close of the meeting the King proceeds to Scotland.

to Scotland.

The Queen, accompanied by Princess Victoria, left Charing Cross yesterday afternoon on the first stage of her journey to Copenhagen.

Her Majesty arrived at Port Victoria at two o'clock, and was received with full honours. She immediately boarded the royal yacht.

Her departure from London was something of a surprise to the officials, as it was understood her Majesty would not leave until to-day.

But it is believed that both the King and Queen expedited their departures from London on account of Buckingham Palace being in the hands of the workmen.

KING AND HIS HEROES.

His Majesty Frequently Visits a Little-Known Hospital.

The King found time between his arrival from Marienbad and his departure to Rufford Abbey to pay a visit to the King Edward the Seventh Hospital for Officers, at No. 9, Grosvenor-gardens.

Hospital for Officers, at No. 9, Grosvenor-gardens. Grosvenor-gardens is an address which is the last that one would associate with a hospital. It contains the Spanish Embassy, the embassies of Japan and the Netherlands, as well as a large number of private residences whose owners have the most distinguished names.

But this is not a hospital in any ordinary sense of the word; it is really the hospital accommodation to Osborne House. Here officers come who have to undergo operations, and from here they proceed to spend their convalescence at Osborne. The King takes a great interest in it, and is con-

The King takes a great interest in it, and is con-stantly calling there. He goes generally in the morning, more often than not on foot. He pays a brief, bright visit, and with a kindly word cheers the lot of its wounded heroes.

CHRISTIAN CHARITY?

Victorious "Wee Kirkers" Stop Professors' Salaries.

The twenty-eight ministers, who, by the recent decision of the House of Lords, obtained control of the vast funds of the Free Church of Scotland, have taken drastic action. Yesterday they stopped the half-yearly salaries of professors of divinity in Free Church colleges.

Upwards of sixty professors were affected—amongst them being sixteen with average salaries amongst them being stateen with average sameled of $600 a year.

The colleges concerned, three in number, are situated in Glasgow, Edinburgh, and Aberdeen, and are attended by over 600 students.

The announcement of this drastic measure has created consternation throughout the length and breadth of Scotland. The people are asking, What will that the part?

breadth of Scotland. The people are asking, What will they do next?

It is stated that further striking developments are to follow, and little hope of an amicable settlement prevails. The eleven hundred defeated ministers are utterly dismayed.

REGATTA FOR CHILDREN.

A novel and pretty sight will be seen on the canoe lake at Ryde, Isle of Wight, on Thursday next, when a children's regatta will be held. There will be all sorts of races for the little ones, and no doubt many craft will be upset, but if the day be warm no danger need be apprehended, as the lake is only 2ft. deep.

RUN FROM LONDON TO DOVER.

The feat of running against time from London Bridge to Dover is to be undertaken on Saturday next by Mr. Henry Baker, a Dover resident.

Baker, who is fifty-one years old, was one of the eight competitors who were left in a the finish of the six days' race at the Westminster Aquarium a few years again.

WAR DECLARED.

Invader's Force Descending on the Essex Coast.

SHIPPED IN SIX HOURS.

At midnight last night war was declared. The "Blue" army, under General French, was on the sea, preparing to land on the Essex shore, while the "Red" army, under General Lyttelton, was in camp close by Colchester awaiting the coming

Early yesterday morning thousands of people saw General French's army of 12,000 men, with horses, guns, and all the paraphernalia necessary for war, embark at Southampton.

Reveille sounded at Southampton Common just as the sun began to rise. The camp was struck, and, led by bands playing stirring marches, the whole army marched down to the docks.

Ten transports were in readiness for them, and not a hitch occurred. The great force was embarked in the most orderly manner imaginable.

The troops, with the baggage and artillery, the train covering two miles of road, were all shipped

In six hours.

The embarkation was carried on simultaneously, each transport moving off when her troops were aboard to Spithead.

WITH THE DEFENDERS.

The streets of Colchester echoed yesterday with the clatter of horses' hoofs and the rumble of transport waggons, which passed through the town in a steady stream bound for Abbey Fields and Middlewick camps.

Several hundred omnibus horses arrived from London by train and lent an air of gaiety to the camp. As soon as they reached Middlewick and smelt fresh clover and green fields the famous London steeds became as frolisome as young coits, and the soldiers had great difficulty in holding them in. The infantry in champ practised rifle shooting at long range the whole day. The men are baking their own bread in field ovens. Colonel Stanley refused an offer from the Colchester Bakery of 23,000 loaves, and ordered six hundred sacks of flour.

nour.

He said that it was better for the Tommies to make their own bread, as they would do if they were on active service in the field.

Ready for French.

Ready for French.

General Lyttelton, the commander, with his staff, arrived at the headquarters camp, Abbey Fields, yesterday, as did the Duke of Connaught, with the umpire's staff.

The continuous traffic of army motor-cars, transport, and ambulance waggons, has cut up the sandy lanes round Colchester.

Although General Sir John French has given out that he will land with the "Blues" near Clacton, the officers of the defending army are rather sceptical, and say that it is more than likely that the General will change his mind at sea, and land some miles away. He delights in raising difficulties and making everyone bustle.

official win change his mind at Sea, and familia some miles away. He delights in raising difficulties and making everyone bustle. Officers of the "Red" army are quartered at all principal Colchester hotels, and no rooms were to be had in the town.

LABOURER'S WINDFALL.

Becomes an Heir to a Legacy of Seventy Thousand Pounds.

A labourer named Sheridan, residing at Stewartstown, co. Tyrone, has just received an intimation that he is one of the heirs to a legacy to £70,000.

The widow of a colonel in the American army bequeathed the above amount in trust securities to her nephew, Sheridan's father, whose whereabouts are at present unknown.

It is stated that the notorious Sergeant Sheridan is a relation.

ELUSIVE DIAMONDS.

The hunt for the seventy-two diamonds supposed to have been thrown into the fields near Bunting-ford, Cambridgeshire, was continued yesterday, but without success. It is now doubted whether the man who said he threw them away was speaking the truth.

P.C. Taylor, of Chipping, has searched four miles of fields several times already.

CARTLOAD OF HAY ON FIRE.

There was a scene of great excitement in White-hall Court shortly after eight last night, when a cartload of hay caught fire.

In a few seconds there was a fierce blaze, and it was only with great difficulty that the horse, maddened by fright, was rescued.

A fire escape and engine were soon on the scene, but the hay was completely destroyed.

BLACK SATURDAY.

Two Weddings Postponed by Mysteries.

LOST BRIDEGROOM FOUND.

There is no longer any mystery as to the whereabouts of Mr. George Augustus Stokes, though no explanation is forthcoming at present as to why he went away so suddenly from Fitzroy-square a few days before the date fixed for his wedding.

Yesterday morning his sister suddenly countered him outside Uxbridge Post Office. He became reticent at once when she asked for some explanation of his conduct, and refused to say any thing. It appeared that he had been calling regularly for his letters, which had all been directed to the post office by his instructions

But while the happiness of Mr. Stokes's fiancee is restored to some extent by the news that he is alive and well, another bride is now mourning for a vanished bridegroom.

Miss Florence Williams, of 8, Chancery-lane Beckenham, was last week a happy, laughing girl, busy preparing for her marriage, which was to have taken place on Saturday last—singularly enough, the date which had been fixed for the marriage of Mr. Stokes.

Trousseau Put Away.

Trousseau Put Away.

Early in the week a sudden end was put to her happiness. The man to whom she was engaged to be married, Benjamin Charles Ford, of Forest Hill, disappeared, and when his family had satisfied themselves that there was no hope of his return they broke the news to the unhappy lady. Her wedding dress and other articles of the trousseau were packed away, and she joined with the missing man's relations in a heartbreaking search for her lower.

for her lover.

No satisfactory reason for his disappearance has yet been found. He had been engaged to Miss Williams for over two years.

On Sunday week he had dinner as usual at his home, at 90, Malham-road, Forest Hill, and afterwards went out about a quarter to three to buy cigarettes. Since then he has not been seen, and although the police have lent every assistance rotrace of him has been found.

LOST IN SPRING CLEANING.

Accused Solicitor's Wife Throws Away Important Papers.

Arrested at Cours d'Alsace at Lorraine, Bordeaux Henry Robert Jones, a Wandsworth solicitor, re siding at Rottingdean, near Brighton, was placed in the dock at the South-Western Police Court yesterday charged with defrauding the Wandsworth Guardians of a banker's cheque £967 8s. 10d.

For representing the guardians in the hearing of certain assessment appeals Jones was paid £2,000 on account, and, later, when the appeals had beer finally disposed of, a further sum of £967 8s. 10d

According to the prosecution it was afterwards found that the briefs relating to the appeals were prepared after the appeals had been dealt with.

Subsequently, an extraordinary letter was received from the prisoner's wife, stating that she had destroyed during her spring cleaning a number of dirty papers, some of which no doubt were those wanted by the guardians.

Jones said the charges rested entirely on the statements of a dismissed clerk, who, he said, had tried to blackmail him and to obtain money from others.

A remand was ordered, bail in two sureties of £250 each and one in £50 being accepted.

Asked whether a man to whom he had sold drink during prohibited hours was a lodger at his house a Brentford publican said, "He's as good as one, for he stays till twelve every night."

SILVER MOUNTED CIGAR CASES.

VER CORNERS, HALL-MARKED RETAIL PRICE OUR PRICE (post paid) AIR

SEND AT ONCE. YOUR MONEY COMES BACK IF YOU ARE NOT PERFECTLY SATISFIED.

THE VALDORA CIGAR CO., 20, Soothing House, 61, Great Tower Street, London,E.C.

"PHROSO" ARRAIGNED.

How the Man-Doll Stopped London Traffic.

Advertisement enterprise has brought a firm, whose premises abut on Piccadilly-circus, into conflict with the police.

The trouble has arisen through Messrs. Swan and Edgar displaying "Phroso" in their shop-window. The identity of "Phroso" is so far a mystery that the non-committal description of "a man or a figure of a man" was given on the charge-sheet. When "Phroso" made an appearance in the window on August 24, such a large crowd collected that a summons for causing an obstruction was issued against Mr. Walter Morford, the managing director of the firm.

At the hearing at Marlborough-street it was said the traffic was so interfered with that extra police had to be placed on duty. "Phroso," otherwise Frederick Trevallen, went into the wintess-box, but declined to say whether he was the doll or not. Mr. Morford was, however, less reticent, for in putting questions for the defence he let fall the remark: "When you were the doll."

Mr. Morford, who proceeded to call a number of witnesses, was remarking that "if they paid heavy rents or taxes they had a right to—" when he was interrupted.

"No matter what rates you pay," observed Mr. Kennedt." van have an obstruction of the content of th The trouble has arisen through Messrs. Swan

"No matter what rates you pay," observed Mr. Kennedy, "you have no right to cause an obstruc-tion. This is only an advertisement for your

Mr. Morford: I hope you will see your way clear Mr. Kennedy: No. I see my way clear to fine you 40s., and 2s. costs.

HOOLIGAN BEANFEASTERS.

Enjoying Themselves "In Their Own Way."

Three members of a Harrow beanfeast party, named William John Pavey, John Virgin, and Joseph George Page, were fined £3 13s. 4d. each, or two months, at Maidenhead yesterday, for drunkenness and disorderly behaviour, and for assaulting P.C. Humphreys.

The prisoners were twice warned by the police for their behaviour. They answered that they intended enjoying themselves in their own way, and Pavey proceeded to knock the policeman's helmet off, at the same time giving him a blow under the

The policeman and Pavey fell on the pavement and the two other men tried to rescue their companion.

Civilians, and subsequently other police officers, came to Humphreys's aid, and the men were arrested.

BLIND TO HER FAULTS.

Evidence at the inquest at Battersea yesterday on Emily Gladdys, who had died from falling downstairs and fracturing her skull, it was stated that the man with whom she had been living gave her 35s, every Saturday, but by Sunday she would have spent half of it in drink. The man said that he would have taken her back, however, if she

The coroner said it was hard to appreciate what attractions such a woman could possess, but the man seemed to have an infatuation for her.

EAST END GIANT IN THE DOCK.

The tallest man in the East End, James Patrick is well known as a doorman at show places, charged at Worship-street yesterday with being drunk.

Standing well over seven and a half feet in height Patrick overlowered by many inches his captor, P.C. 418Rf, but his voice, compared with that of the officer, was small and childlike.

He was fined 10s., and as he left the dock he put on a silk hat, which made him even taller.

FOUND GAGGED IN A POND.

It was shown at the inquiry yesterday into the death of the young domestic servant, Isabella Twist, who was found gagged in a pond near Blyth, that there was little justification for the suspicion

There was an absence of any evidence of violence such as would have been expected if a second per-son had wilfully gagged the girl. She had left her purse, too, on her brother's table, as if she did not intend to return. A verdict of Suicide was returned.

BLANK SPOT IN HIS MEMORY.

Mr. Harold Browning, who was murderously assaulted and robbed of nearly £200 in a Brixton shop six weeks ago, is now lying at his house in Betkenham.

His condition has much improved, but he is still quite unable to recall his assailant to mind. His memory of the outrage on July 23 remains a blank.

"AWFUL BRODRICK CAP."

Sergeant Driven to Suicide by Disfigurement.

"I am wearing the Brodrick cap, which makes me look awful.

This formed the postscript to a letter written by Sergeant Wilfrid Glasgow, of the Royal Army Medical Corps, before committing suicide by shoot ing himself with a revolver. His dead body was found in a ditch on Hounslow Heath last Saturday by two women who were gathering blackberries.

The coroner read at the inquest last evening a portion of a letter which Glasgow had addressed to the officer commanding the depot of the R.A.M. Corps at Aldershot. It ran .

My mind is unhinged, and I am doing this to save trouble. I had a fracture of the nose before I went to South Africa, and during the war it was made worse. My face is so disfigured that my friends scarcely know me, and wherever I go everybody looks at me and I can stand it no longer. I am afraid that this extension of twenty-one years will not be granted in consequence. granted in consequence

The coroner read the postscript, with the comment It is evident that this cap is not popular in the Sergeant Chapple stated that Glasgow had a slight disfigurement of his nose before he went to South Africa, where he was severely wounded, and where he gained the Distinguished Conduct medal. The jury found that Glasgow shot himself whilst of unsound mind.

M.P.'s FAITHFUL DOG.

Dying Terrier Warns Its Master of Burglars.

A touching instance of a dog's intelligence and fidelity has come to light in connection with the recent burglary at the house in Stepney occupied by Major Evans Gordon, M.P.

The animal, an Irish terrier, was a clever watchdog, and the thieves took the precaution of giving ong, and the ineves took the precatation or giving it poison. They proceeded to ransack the house leaving the dog, as they thought, dead. But the terrier, when they had gone, had just sufficient strength left to crawl upstairs and arouse its master by scratching feebly at the door of his bedroom.

Major Gordon thought the dog was in a fit, and was going downstairs to get some modifience when was going downstairs to get some medicine when he noticed that all the doors at the back of the e were open.

did not take long to realise what had hap pened. When he returned to the bedroom he found his faithful dog lying dead.

No clue has been discovered as to the identity of the thieves.

CHILD SWALLOWS A HATPIN

From the effects of swallowing a hatpin a child named Ellen Helm, aged three, has died in St. George's Hospital. The mother, at the inquest yesterday, stated that one day last May she left the child alone for a short while, and on her return found it choking. She believed it had swallowed a hatpin, but neither the doctor nor the nurse in the out-patients' department at the hospital would entertain the idea.

entertain the idea.

"I got so sick and tired of the hatpin business that I never told any doctor at the hospital about it," she exclaimed. However, a post-mortem examination by Dr. Freyberger revealed the presence of a pin 42in. long. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.

MR. PLOWDEN'S POPULARITY.

Mr. Plowden received a singular tribute to his popularity at Marylebone Police Court yesterday. Three rough-looking men, anned Thompson, Horan, and Burke, were before him charged with travelling from Preston to London without having paid their fares. Sergeant Drew stated that when they learnt, after their arrest, that they would be taken to Marylebone Horan said: "I am very pleased to hear that, because that is where Mr. Plowden sits, and I should like to see him. I would do three months if I could only see Mr. Plowden." Mr. Plowden blushed, and remanded the prisoners.

MAN GIRDLED WITH JEWELS.

After his arrest in a jeweller's shop, where he was offering diamonds for sale, John Doherty was searched, with the result that a belt round his waist was found also to contain jewels.

He was remanded at Londonderry yesterday, charged with having been concerned in stealing the gems from Mrs. A. F. Coake, of Derry.

At an inquest at Westminster a verdict of Found Drowned was returned in the case of an unknown woman, whose body was found against the piles of Vaushall Bridge. In Lambeth Mortuary the body of a young woman recovered from the Thames near Westminster Bridge, yesterday morn-ing, lies waiting identification.

HOLIDAY DISASTERS.

Three Lives Lost Off Portsmouth.

BOY VICTIMS OF THE SEA.

Reports from various parts of the kingdom yesterday helped to swell to a distressing extent the list of drowning disasters which already during the present year has reached such appalling propor-

Three lives have been lost off Portsmouth through small sailing-boat capsizing on the return journey from a fishing expedition. Its occupants, William May and Sydney Balch, dockyard hands, and their two young sons, had been fishing near Hayling Island on Sunday evening. As they were entering Langstone Harbour the boat was caught by the outrunning tide and overturned. May was the only one rescued, after he had vainly attempted to swim to shore with one of the boys. The bodies of the three victims were swept out to sea. Balch leaves five small orphan children, his wife having died Holiday Bathing.

Holiday Bathing.

Yet another of those bathing accidents inseparable from the holiday season was investigated yesterday. It was shown that Charles Thomas Gibson, a book-keeper employed by Messrs. Salmon and Glackstein, had, although a strong swimmer, sunk while bathing at Marlow.

While bathing in the harbour at Blythe, Northumberland, yesterday morning Alfred Seabrooke, the son of a local pilot, was seized with crampy and swept away by the heavy seas.

Another disaster on Lough Neagh is reported. A fishing-boat containing four men capsized, and James Coyle, aged thirty, and James Cassity, aged twenty-nine, were drowned. Their companions were saved by the gallant efforts of two of the Irish Constabulary.

A third case of lives lost through a boat suddenly capsizing has occurred at Crovie, near Banff. While mackerel-fishing yesterday two fishermen, aged seventy and twenty-one, were drowned through the boat being capsized by a sudden squall. Another fisherman, an old man aged about seventy, who was also in the boat, was rescued in an exhausted condition.

POLICE STOP A PARIS TRIP.

Two Youths' Sleep Disturbed by Detectives.

"We are going off to Paris to-morrow," said a smartly-dressed youth, named John Dennis, when detective called on him at Dalmeny-mansions, Theobalds-road, in the small hours of Sunday morning to arrest him on a charge of stealing £2 as of a worthless cheque from a Miss Con-

The trip had to be postponed, for Dennis was marched off to the police-station, together with his young companion, Graham Stovert Ackeroyd.

At Bow-street yesterday, when the two youths were charged, it was explained that Dennis gave a were charged, it was explained that Dennis gave a worthless cheque for £7 10s, to Miss Beaumont and received £2 change.

At the station Ackeroyd was found to have in his possession eight filled-in cheques, all drawn on Messrs. Lampton and Co.'s Bank, Newcastle. There had been a number of complaints respecting the prisoners, who admitted having cashed cheques to the value of between £50 and £60. A remand was granted to enable the Treasury to take the case up.

ONLY HIS BODY LEFT.

Included among nearly fifty passive resisters summoned at Tunbridge Wells yesterday was the Rev. James Mountain, who told the magistrates that they could have his body at once for prison purposes. He had made over all his property and clothes to his wife, so distraint was impossible.

The Bench ordered payment or distraint in every 茶杯茶杯杯茶杯茶茶茶茶茶 Clarke's

Blood Wixture

THE WORLD-FAMED BLOOD PUNIFIEM, as in warranted to Cleanes the Blood from all imparities from whatever cause artising. We would be and blood Diseases, Bloocheads, Photoples and Bores of all kinds, its effects are warrelines. Thousands of Testimonials and world wonderful cures from all parts of the world. Sold by Chamista oversywhere. TATATATATATATATATATATA

OF GENERAL INTEREST. ITEMS

Out of 560 children who died at Burnley 425 were fed by the bottle.

Unless sea-wall works are commenced, Fresh-water and Totland will be cut off from the Isle of Wight.

Further orders have been received by woollen mills in Lancashire and Yorkshire from the Japanese Government for flannels for their troops.

KILLED WHILST AT PLAY.

With a cap over her face, little Susan Hands, aged seven, was playing at "blind man's buff" in a Leicester street, when she knocked her head against a wall. Inflammation of the brain set in, with fatal results.

WINDSOR CASTLE INQUEST.

For the first time on record an inquest took place yesterday at Windsor Castle.

It was held on James William Colesell, a gardener, who was found to have died of heart disease.

SIX HOURS' DAY.

While English workmen are still fighting for an eight hours' day Mr. Tom Mann, in Australia, has raised the banner of a six hours' day, which he considers the maximum time any person should be allowed to labour for a wage.

ILLITERATE'S WINDMILLS.

"I can make a windmill, but I can't write my ame," exclaimed a juryman at an East Esser name," exclaimed a juryman at an East Essex inquest.

The Court was puzzled until someone explained that the windmill was the sign of the cross. The man then made his mark.

SEA FIND OF PAWNTICKETS.

While fishing off the Bell Rock the trawler St. Bernard has made the curious haul of a large hundle containing thousands of pawnickets.

They have been lodged with the Customs officials at Grantham, but the pledges have all run out, being dated 1896.

INSANITARY RETAILERS.

Dr. Bates, medical officer for Bethnal Green, reports that the legislation proposed by the London County Council for the inspection and control of premises where food is prepared for sale is worfully nadequate.

Bakers and grocers, he adds, in themselves and their families, frequently suffer from contagious maladies, and they never discontinue to offer food for sale, as there is no law to compel them to do so.

MARRIAGE OF THE UNFIT.

MARHAGE OF THE UNFIT.
Bishop's Stortford Guardians have painful experience of the result of the marriage of persons tainted with hunacy.

A man, whose father had died in an asylum, married a woman whose mother was at the time an inmate of an asylum.

Now the man is at Brentford Lunatic Asylum, the woman is in the workhouse, and their children are apparently nearly all doomed to a lunatic's fate.

Germany and South Wales divide the Danish Royal Railway coal contracts just completed.

The Rev. J. T. Inskip, M.A., vicar of Leyton, has been appointed Professor of Theology at King's College, London.

For allowing their premises to be used for betting two licensed victuallers were each fined £50 and costs yesterday at Stafford.

The German Emperor has presented Captain Joseph Pearce, of Plymouth, with a gold chrono-meter watch, bearing the Imperial monogram and a medallion portrait of himself, in recognition of saving the crew of a German steamer.

TOY CUNARD LINER.

Typeside is taking much interest in a working model of the big Cunarder which Messrs. Swan and Hunter are building at Wallsend.

The Turbine Commission of experts apparently did not investigate everything, and as a result the contracting firm has built this model, the size of a fairly large launch, and this is running about the Type and neighbouring docks, while experiments are being made as to the best position for machinery and shafting, the new leviathan having the unusual number of four engines.

PASTORAL CALL AT PUBLIC-HOUSES.

When the Rev. B. Senior was appointed to the Primitive Church at Higher Ardwick, near Man-

Primitive Church at Higher Artwick, hear Man-chester, he considered it his duty to make a pastoral visit to all the public-houses in his district. He states he was struck by the cleanliness of these places, but he also noticed that in twenty houses there were at the time of his visits only three men, all the others being women. He considers the danger of the drink traffic lies in its temptation to women.

WHO WILL PRONOUNCE IT?

WHO WILL PRONOUNCE IT?

Circulars are infrequently addressed to the inhabitants of a Welsh village, close by the Menai Straits, as the trouble of writing its name effectually discourages correspondence. It is Llandaripwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwllandysillogogogoch. Two English tourists who met this village on a cycling tour spent eleven days there out of a fortnight's holiday, and now proudly boast they can at last pronounce its name.

CAMBERWELL BOY HERO.

CAMBERWELL BOY MERO.

Charles Hurley, a lad of ten, attending the Ilderton-road, Camberwell, Council School, has received the Royal Humane Society's medal for saving another lad from drowning in the Surrey Canal. Many admirers of the lad have made other presents to him, including a watch and chain, whilst a gentleman will allow him five shillings a year to keep it in repair.

VICTIM OF AN AMBULANCE.

The quick pace at which the Birmingham ambu-lance van hurried on an errand of mercy was itself the cause of another accident.

In Corporation-street a lad named Thomas Ren-shaw was knocked off his bicycle, and he now lies unconscious at the hospital.

While fishing at Portheawl an angler has caught shark four feet long.

Thirty clergymen of Hastings have signed a memorial against motor omnibuses running on Sun-

Mr. T. Taylor, of East Anglia, who rang bells on the death of George IV., has died at the age of inety-three.

Through alighting from a tram while in motion Charles Sydney Woods, an elderly gentleman, of Merton-road, Wimbledon, fractured his left leg and dislocated his shoulder at Clapham Junction.

SCARBOROUGH'S PEER MAYOR.

Earl Londesborough is to be asked to accept the post of Mayor of Scarborough for the ensuing year. Next summer the Prince of Wales is expected to visit Scarborough to open the Great Marine Drive.

COUNTY COUNCIL PUZZLE.

Section 17 of an order issued by the Monmouth-shire County Council, dealing with the Diseases of Animals Act, reads:—"This order may be cited as the Epizootic Lymphangitis Order of 1904." The section is headed "Short Title."

MANSION'S MONIED VIEW.

Wentworth Woodhouse, the seat of the Earl Fitz-william, has the finest view of any country mansion in England.

It consists chiefly of chimneys of collieries, which bring in an income of over 480,000 a year.

"THE ENTENTE CORDIALE."

Three hundred athletic delegates from all the countries of Europe and Australia and South Africa were received yesterday by the Lord Mayor.

In the evening the party visited the Athambra and displayed great endusiasm at the new ballet, "The Entente Cordiale."

CHAMPION SOMALI CRICKETER.

One of the native Somalis in the African village at Bradford exhibition has developed a wonderful

At a local match he has taken seven wickets for seven runs.

WANTED HOME-MADE BREAD.

WANTED HOME-MADE BREAD.

On Saturday, when Hutchinson Vasey, of Gateshead, labourer, returned from work his wife supplied him with bought bread instead of home-made.

He then threw the frying-pan at her, struck her on the shoulder and back with a coal rake, and then stabbed her in the left breast with a knife.

For the latter offence he was yesterday sent to prison for three months.

TRAMWAYS' CORKSCREW STAIRCASES

At the suggestion of the Board of Trade experi-nents are being made with direct staircases for ramways in place of the reversed type in general ise.

It is claimed that a direct staircase would allow two streams of passengers to pass up and down, while at the termini the cars could be far more quickly cleared.

THE CITY.

Movements of the Markets.

The Stock Exchange reopened in good form after the holidays, and on the whole satisfaction must be expressed with the course of markets. The new easury bills were allotted on much more favour Treasury bills were allotted on much more favourable terms to the Government than the market had anticipated, and this naturally caused Consols to improve, and, in fact, the rise was equivalent to putting them to 89½ in their cum-dividend form. Naturally, all other gilt-edged-securities were favourably affected by the firmness of Consols, Rise.—Consols (for cash) ½, to 88½ xd; Jrish Land Stock ½, to 90½; India three per cent. stock ½, to 94½ xd. Fall.—London County Council three per cent. ½, to 92½.

Home Rails.

Home Rails,

In the Home Railway market the tone was quietly firm, with some natural improvement with Consols in the last hour. The investment demand seemed a little greater, here being more doing in some of the prior securities. Scottish and Underground issues were slightly prominent, the former on the good reports published. The Brighton traffic increase was kiled, as it went against a fair increase last year. The City and South London traffic increase was £24. Riss.—Great Eastern $\frac{1}{2}$, to 88\frac{1}{2}$, if creat Central "A" $\frac{1}{2}$, to 13\frac{1}{2}$, the tropolitan District $\frac{1}{2}$, to 38\frac{1}{2}$, if North-Western $\frac{1}{2}$, to 14\frac{1}{2}$, d.

As was the case on Saturday, New York was holiday-making yesterday. But for all that, there were a few American buying orders in the market here. The opening was satisfactory. Denvers were a prominent feature. Atchisons, Southern Pacifics, and Unions were bid for, The market did not improve very much as the day wore on, and the close was listless and below the best, but still with most things showing gains on balance.

Rist.—Atchison $\frac{1}{2}$, to 83\frac{1}{2}$; Chesapeake $\frac{1}{2}$, to 4\frac{1}{3}$; Milwaukee $\frac{1}{2}$, to 160; Denver $\frac{1}{2}$, to 28\frac{1}{2}$; Denver Preferred $\frac{1}{2}$, to 73; Illinois Central $\frac{1}{2}$, to 128\frac{1}{2}$; Louisville $1$, to 12\frac{1}{2}$; New York Central $\frac{1}{2}$, to 12\frac{1}{2}$; Ontario $\frac{1}{2}$, to 32\frac{1}{2}$; New York Central $\frac{1}{2}$, to 12\frac{1}{2}$; Southern Pacific $\frac{1}{2}$, to 5\frac{1}{2}$; Southern Ordinary $\frac{1}{2}$, to 3\frac{1}{2}$; Wabash $1$, to 4\frac{1}{2}$; Indited States Steel Preferred $\frac{1}{2}$, to 4\frac{1}{2}$.

Canadian Pacifics naturally derived benefit from the traffic increase of $\frac{1}{2}$; 100.

There, was a closed on Saturday the traffic came out, and it was $\frac{1}{2}$, volume the traffic not came out, and it was $\frac{1}{2}$, volume the traffic not, the market did not close at the best, the rise on the day was substantial. Argentine Rails continue very prominent. Great Southerns, B.A. Westens, and Pacifics were all good, dividend prespects being, of course, still the first consideration. This market closed active and strong. Mexican Rails were also good, though silver lost ground on the day. Rise.—Canadian Pacific $\frac{1}{2}$, to 128 at, Grand Trunk $\frac{1}{2}$ to 13\frac{1}{2}$; ditto 1st Pref $\frac{1}{2}$, to 37\frac{1}{2}$; ditto 1st Pref $\frac{1}{2}

Foreign Bonds.

Foreign Bonds.

Urugnays were helped by news of a Government victory. Peruvian Corporation issues were still bought on dividend prospects and the expectation of good monthly figures, the latter being realised in the course of the afterneon. Japanese bonds benefit from the war news, but Russians certainly do not suffer. In fact, the whole Foreign market is helped considerably by the cheap moneys rates ruling in Paris and the necessity to find profitable investments. So all French favourites are higher, and in copper shares Rio Tintos lead the way, helped also by the metal news. Rize.—Argentine. 1886 3, to 1043; Funding 3, to 1043; Brazil Fours 3, to 793; Recission 3, to 783; Chinese 1898 3, to 1043; Greek Monopoly 3, to 473; Peru Preference, $5, to 27, to 28, to 8, to 1043; Sandhall and the second preference of the second profit and the second pro to 56); Rio Tintos ?, to 54]. Fall.—Japan Fives $\frac{1}{2}$, to 872; Fours $\frac{1}{2}$, to 752.

Gas stock, Docks, and Hudson's Bays were all fins markets again. Associated Cement issues are being bought on the approaching dividend. Sweetmeat Automatics are flat at 12s. 6d. on the bad earnings showing. Rise.—Aerated Bread $\frac{1}{2}$, to $\frac{1}{2}$; Anglo-American "A" $\frac{1}{2}$, to $\frac{1}{2}$; Anglo-American "A" $\frac{1}{2}$, to $\frac{1}{2}$; Associated Cement Preference $\frac{1}{2}$, to $\frac{1}{2}$; London and India Docks Deferred $\frac{1}{2}$, to $\frac{1}{2}$; All.—James Nelson 1s., to 21s. 6d.; L. G. Omnibus 1, to 130] xd.

Mines.

Indian Mines were helped by the crushings. West Africans were also helped by a crushing return, that of the Wassau. West Australians scarcely moved, and there was hardly any business doing. In Kaffirs the opening was rather dull, in spite of more detailed rumours about the Rhodesian banket, and the Rhodesian market was distinctly heavy. An adverse influence for South Africans was the Coronation Syndicate collapse. The arrival of more Chinese coolies at Durban was disregarded in the circumstances. There was, perhaps, a little bidding in the afternoon, rallying markets from the lower level. Rise.—Bonana A, to 1A; Ferreira 2, to 201; Great Boulder Prop. 6d, to 208, 9d.; Nicckirk Is. 9d., to 15s. 9d.; Nundydroog 1-32, to 121-32. Fall.—Barnato Consols A; to 2½; Chartereds 1-32, to 1 19-32; Consolidated Goldfields 1-32 to 6 11-32; East Rand Mining Estate 3, to 315-16; Gold Coast Amalgamated 3, to 12; Golden Horseshoe A; to 62; Rande Mining Estate 3, to 10 15-16; Gold Coast Amalgamated 4, to 12; Golden Horseshoe A; to 62; Rand Mining 1-3; Rhodesia Exploration A; to 32; Weigedacht 3, to 64.

LONDON & PARIS EX CHANGE

GENERAL BANKERS.

HEAD OFFICE BASILDON HOUSE, BANK, LONDON, E.C.

Auction, Land & Estate Department, 41 8 43, COLEMAN ST., LONDON, E.C.

The Directors of the London and Paris Exchange, td., beg to call attention to the following selection of estates, Residences, etc., which they have for disposal.

SURREY.—Twelve r.lies & W. from Town. Choice Press held Bouble-fronted Residence, situate near two rallway stations and trans service. Charming surroundings.
The accommodation comprises, 3 bedrooms, balancom,
3 seception-rooms, good office. Half as acre of pardoe, with lawns and orchard. Price £1 as acre of parDERKS.—Charming Designation, 12 Notes of parts 237 acres.

BERKS.—Charming Residential Estate of about 313 acres. Close to station, church, post, and telegraph. The residence contains 13 rooms. There is also good etabling, coachhouse, and extensive farm buildings. Very healthy district. Frice & 3,900.

Folio 664c.

healthy district. Price £3,900. While 664c.

K NT.—Attractive Freshold Residence, while in the burges

K No. Strategies of the strategies

CHESTERFIELD.—Charming Freehold residence, containing 6 bedrooms, dressing-room, 3 reception-rooms, and good offices. Excellent range of stabling and farm buildings. The estate covering about 58 acres. Frice £2,000.

denicings. The estate covering about 50 acres. Frice 52.00.

GOUGHERSHIPS.—Chee to Ballway station, Chairman and Telegraph office, and occupation station are magnificent site, commanding estation state. A gentleman's residence, well swited for a Sanaforium, Barking Estatishiment, or 6choch. The property as many other places of interest. The accommodation comprises: Entrance hal, 25th. by 14th, and titled room, 30tt. by 15tt, disting room 27tt. by 21ft. morning-room 25tt. by 12ft, disting room 27tt. by 21ft. morning-room 25tt. by 12ft. morning-room 25tt by 20ft.

Morning-room 21th by 12ft, disting room 27tt. by 20ft. or 20ft.

MOST PERFECT RESIDENCE attack on-high-ground in a very heat that on-high-ground in a very heat mear Harrow and Wembley, with a mover that walk of the station. The house is an and contains 3 reception-rooms, 7, bed rooms, bathroom, and most convenient o laws, and garden of shout haif an scre.

EAST GRINGTEAD, near to—A capital Freehold Residence, within casy reach of station, with scott trained to the continuing the deformance within casy reach of station, with scott trained to the containing a bedrooms, with scott trained to the containing and the containing trained trained to the containing the containing the containing training t

Sud other outcomings. Price 22,200. Polic 6715.

SUSSEX—A very valuable Freehold Training Stables.

Status 3 miles from an important junction. The Sussex—A very subsequence of the price o

HERTORD.—A charming betached Long Leashold Villa HERTORD.—A charming betached Long Leashold Villa HERTORD.—A charming betached Long Leashold Villa madow land, 400ft, above sea-level, and about 14 meteorists horse wood beation. The accommodation for the horse wood beation. The accommodation and usual domestic offices, Modern drainings, good water supply, etc. Lease 99 years. Ground rest 47 10s. Price 2676.

E7 103. Price E075.

NTI.—Near Deal—An exceptional opportunity to acquire a valuable Prochold Fruit and Pouley Farm, situate a valuable Prochold Fruit and Pouley Farm, situate which was a process of the process of th

GIAND OPPORTUNITY for GOLF PLAYERS, or for Mindson requiring a residential Golf Club House, near Wimbbleon. A most confortable freshold for sale, the confortable freshold for sale freshold for sale freshold for sale freshold from the confortable freshold from the confortable for t

Those desiring to purchase properties in any part of Great Britain are invited to send a brief statement of their requirements to the MANAGER of the AUCTION, LAND, and ESTATE DEPARTMENT.

No charge is made to Applicants, to whom all informa-tion and assistance will be given. Requirement Forms sent on application.

N.B.—Further particulars of the above properties, also Handbook and Estate Register, containing information as to a large number of properties for disposal in all parts of the United Kingdom, will be sent post free on application.

LONDON & PARIS EXCHANGE

41 8 43, COLEMAN ST., LONDON, E.C.

NOTICE TO READERS.

The Editorial, Advertising, and General Business Offices of the Daily Mirror are:

CARMELITE-STREET,

TELEPHONES: 4310 and 1319 Holborn,

Daily Mirror

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1904.

ROYAL MARRIAGE PROBLEM

O! The scapegrace German Crown Prince is betrothed again, this time for good, with his parents' consent and the applause of the proletariat. His morganatic tendency is nipped in the bud, and we shall hear less of his unprincely perform-

The future German Empress, Princess Cecile of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, is said to be nearly eighteen, and to speak several lan-guages fluently. The future German Emperor is described as intelligent, able to speak five languages, and learning a sixth.

So far no word is said of the love of the young couple one for another.

Are they to suffer the penalty of royal birth and be the victims of a marriage of dynastic or political convenience?

The mental and physical tortures of the unhappy Princess Louise of Coburg are now freshly brought to mind by her escape from detention. Many have sorrows, strictly concealed, which are equal to hers, and, like them, the result of a distasteful marriage of

It is a singular comment on modern manners to see the complacency with which we acclaim the arbitrary mating of royal personages, and then with our next breath fling hot scorn on some sad society beauty who

We plead in extenuation that royal people when a King fought his way to the throne, and had grave need to make it hard for post-humous aspirants to do the same. Laws of succession were framed, and alliances likely to lead to the best results carefully entered into, lead to the best results carefully entered into, and forced upon heirs.

In consequence we have royal marriage arrangements which do not fit in with the moral prejudices of the bulk of the people.

We find the plea of convenience, proclaiming it as manifest and undeniable. The screen is up, we cry, "All's well." But is it?

GENERAL BOOTH'S TRIUMPH.

To-day at Aberdeen General Booth termi-

To-day at Aberdeen General Booth termi-nates his long motor-car tour.
It has been an uninterrupted, popular; and tactical triumph for the veteran preacher.
He voices a simple faith, knocked into the mind of the hearer with music of brass instru-ments and sledge-hammer straight talk.

The magnetism of the man is tremendous. For any preacher, even in these tolerant days, to have carried his evangel through England into Scotland with no voice raised against him is nigh incredible.

is nigh incredible.

No man since John Wesley has held the minds and hearts of his followers in such strong and subtle sway.

No religious enthusiast has ever so successfully disarmed destructive criticism.

No one man has been invested with so great a religious and philanthropic trust and carried it saw with nucleastic statistics desiries, since ried it out with such striking administrative

There is no other instance of a historic un-There is no other instance of a historic un-orthodoxy like the Salvation Army of whose works the Church, the State, and their gover-nors have been able with a clear conscience to join in a chorus of praise.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

-Swinburne (on Russian Persecutions).

"Suppose the newly-appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Cossacks should decide to take the field?"—"Brooklyn Daily Eagle."

READERS' LETTER-BOX.

THE NURSERY V. THE DRAWING-ROOM

I am quite prepared to admit that there are two sides to every question, and also that it is wrong to take small children away from their play to attend social functions which are dull even to their elders. But if the two sides of the question are either to neglect children altogether or to treat them in this way, then I think there are three sides to this par ular one.

The third side is that mothers should give up the social functions and spend the time with the children. They will find that the social loss more than made up by the pleasure they will ga Queen's-road, Manchester. MAUD F. WILLAT.

THE USES OF THE MOTOR-CAR.

Why not make the best of things? The motor-car has arrived, and certainly means to stay. That being so, the next thing is to find the hidden good in what we have so far called its defects. Even if it does kill a few people, what does that Even if it does kill a few people, what does that matter? It is serving a useful purpose. It is teaching people to keep their eyes open and to be prepared to jump in any direction on the slightest warning. By the aid of the motor-car, and the consequent struggle for existence, we shall soon cultivate the gait and appearance of kangaroos. And why not?

Newcastle-on-Tyne.

PITY THE POOR ANIMALS.

The late lamented Venus did not die as a result of casual feeding by visitors to the Zoo, but I am surprised that many other animals do not.

Cannot something be done to prevent the animals being presented with all sorts of impossible food. The authorities do not seem to take the matter seriously, for nuts and buns are sold deliberately seriously, for nuts and buns are sold deliberately for that purpose.

Buns will not hurt the bears or elephants, nor will nuts, within limits, hurt the digestions of the monkeys; but there are many animals which, do not thrive on such a diet.

Perhaps the authorities make so much profit on the sale of these luxuries that they can put up with the occasional death of a rare specimen.

Chatham.

EVELYN MANNS.

HOMICIDAL MANIACS.

Can not something be done to ensure that it shall be impossible for anyone who has attempted to wreck a train to do so again?

to wreek a train to do so again?
It is never a pleasant business to know that anyone your-hold dear is exposed to the ordinary dangers of railway travelling, but it is far worse when lunatics suffering from this form of homicidal mania—I can call it nothing else—are allowed loose. No sane man would commit the crime, and a few months' imprisonment is no cure for insanity. What guarantee have we that the attempt will not be repeated?

Suraly, a way convicted of such an effective and a service of such an effective process.

Surely a man convicted of such an offence against humanity should be confined for the remainder of his life.

Hammersmith.

JOHN S. BRYANT.

A MAN OF THE MOMENT.

MARSHAL OYAMA

MARSHAL OYAMA.

H IS is the brain which has directed the Japanese armies to the victory of Liaoyang. He is the man whom Japan trusted, and who has not failed her.

If you were to hear all that a Japanese soldier had to say of him, you would imagine that he was a god. He is not really, but it would take you all your time to convince a private under his command of the fact.

Nor is his popularity confined to his soldiers. Every man in Japan, worth would not brave for him, and no sacrifice which a civilian would not make. Yet he is a disciplinarian of the strictest order.

Just as he is the best-beloved man in Japan, so he is the ugliest. He is stout, he is unwieldy, he is terribly marked by smallpox, and his eyes seem to be at perpetual war. Still he is probably the cleverest man in the Mikado's domains.

Certainly no Japanese has a stronger leaning towards Western methods. He was educated in France, and was Military Attache during the France-Prussian war. Then he returned to Japan in time to take part in the civil war, but on peace being restored was sent once more to Europe to study the military systems. Many sweeping reforms followed his reappearance in Japan. The value of these reforms was proved in the war with China.

At one time he was strongly pro-French. Now

At one time he was strongly pro-French. Now he is too strongly pro-Japanese to be pro-anything Beyond his patriotism, his most strongly marked peculiarity is his love of cats.

THE MIRROR UP TO NATURE.

Near The Law Courts, II.30 p.m.

A cold, silver moon and two dim stars still glimmer out their protest at the overwhelming glimmer out their protest at the overwhelming clouds.

Far off, in windless altitudes, the cloud battalions lie at rest across the Heavens, like fields of ice with mountain peaks of snow. Lower, where winds fly fast, they roll and scud in ever-changing form, as billows and breakers of storm-driven foam, now sweeping across the moon's face, just dulling her pale splendour, then clearing away, only to let her shine into their misty, vapourous depths, till they seem but silvery, web-like embroideries of the robes of Night.

Still they spread, blotting out even the moon at last. A fant, pale circle of silver shows where she is striving. Then the silver circle grows fainter. Presently nothing tells of her save a curious, copper-like tinge. Then even that is lost, leaving only the deadness, the unbroken darkness, and the level nothingness.

TRANSATLANTIC.

"It's bad enough to be poor, without having to work, too."—" Judge" (New York).

"Indeed!" remarked Sherlock Omes to the man who said that he had no use for newspapers. "Then what do you do on a street-car when there is a lady standing up in front of you?"—"Pittsburg.Post."

THIS MORNING'S GOSSIP.

ORD CASTLETOWN, who has just made such a fighting speech at the Pan-Celtic Congress and threatened to knock any magination the gutter who dares to jeer at his Celtis blood, is a resident Irish landlord who is not often seen in England. Both he and bis wife own estates in Ireland, and spend the greater part of their time on them. Though from the pugnacious nature of his speech you might imagine that he was a small person of insignificant physique, he is really a fine man and a keen sportsman. Some years ago, accompanied by Lady Castletown and some friends, he went on a long big game shooting expedition in the Rockies.

the Rockies.

* * * *

Lady Castletown acted as cook to the party, and roughed it gamely with the rest. On occasions her skill, none of the greatest, was put to the test of making a little food go a long way. She signalised the first bread -baking-by using a box of tooth-powder in place of baking-powder. The bread was not a success, but only the owner of the tooth-powder was annoyed. On the whole, the trip was a success, and resulted in a fine collection of skins.

Just at the moment that the Kaiser has announced the betrothal of his son, a new story of him comes over from Germany. He recently went to see a rehearsal of a new ballet. While he was there a dispute arose as to the best way to produce a Slavonic dance. Suddenly an authoritative voice broke in telling exactly how it should be done. Everybody stared in amazement at the Kaiser, who had added stage management to his other accomplishments. "You may stare at me as much as you like," he went on, "but it is as I say. I have seen it danced in Hungary," Think of the same thing happening in London.

SOCIETY'S LAWYER.

SOCIETY'S LAWYER.

If there is one man more than another of whom Society (with a large capital S) stands in fear, it is Sir George Lewis, who has just been making some strong remarks on the subject of the Beck seandal. If Sir George liked to talk, I believe he could hang one half of society and ostracise the other; for whatever happens and whatever disputes arise, he is on one side or the other. But there is no fear of him ever divulging any confidences, for, for one reason, he has kept no diary of his cases, and, for another, he has undertaken never to write his memoirs.

his memoirs.

** * *

H is many years now since he won his first case, and he was only nineteen at the time. A woman rished into the office. Would the gentleman come at once and defend her son, who was accused of robbing the till of a public-house? He got info-court knowing practically nothing of the case, picked up the details as best he could, cross-questioned the witnesses, and got his man off. It wis a veritable triumph. Outside the exultant mother smacked him joyfully on the back with the shout, "Well done, young 'un!" One would hardly wenture on such a 'salute to-day.

That Miss Len a have!

That Miss Len a have! The present of the rest of the first of the country of

TROUBLE FOR SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

TROUBLE FOR SIR THOMAS LIPTON,
If Mr. William Fife and Mr. George Watson both refuse the task of designing a new Shamrock for Sir Thomas Lipton, there will probably be some trouble in getting anyone to undertake the responsibility of building a challenger for the America Cup.
Yacht-building seems to be hereditary in the Fife family, for the Mr. Fife in question is the third of the name. The first Fife was the son of a village carpenter, and started his career by building a boat for himself which was immediately bought from him. Then he built himself another, and that shared the same fate. That decided his future profession. His son and grandson both followed in his steps, and have designed boats which have made names in every quarter of the globe.

* * * *
Mr. George Watson has not the advantage of

Mr. George Watson has not the advantage of heredity to help him, for his father was a physician, but the date of his birth was of good omen. He was born in 1851, the year when the schooner America Captured the America Cup in the match round the Isle of Wight. The Scottish challenger Thistle was his first yacht of world-wide fame. His most successful was the Britannia.

most successful was the Britannia.

*** * * * * *

Yesterday was the birthday of Miss Esmé Beringer, who has made a name both as an actress and a fencer. The first idea, of taking up fencing came as a result of acting Romeo, and she worked hard at her hobby for five years before she appeared in her well-known fencing sketch at the PalaceTheatre. Now there is not an actor who can hold a rapier with her.

Stane favor has caught almost every member of Stage fever has caught aimost every member of the Beringer family. Mrs. Beringer, the mother, is well known as an actress. The eldest of the sisters is known on the stage as Miss May Hulford. Miss Esmé Beringer comes next. Miss Vera Beringer is the youngest, and has already done well. Finally, Jack Beringer gave up Oxford and a 'scholarship to fence under the name of "Jack Silver" with his sister.

MISS NANCY PRICE.

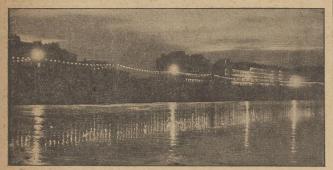

This is the latest portrait of this popular young actress, who is now appearing in "The Chevaleer," at the Garrick Theatre.— (Biograph Studie).

BARNET FAIR.

Barnet is one of the oldest and noisiest fairs in England. Hundreds of horses, driven wildly up a by their owners, change hands after much shouting and haggling at prices which seem ast This photograph of a corner of the fair and refreshment tents was taken yesterday.

DOVER BY NIGHT.

Here is a unique photograph of Dover Parade illuminated, taken at midnight.

LOVERS.

On the beach at Weston-super-Mare.

VICAR IN THE HOP-FIELD

The tent in the Kent hopfields where the Rev. Wilson, an East End vicar, is now conduction amongst the hop-pickers. The smalle the rear is where the vicar sleeps.

READING'S GOALKEEPER.

Naisby, Reading's goalkeeper. He is the only professional of the Reading team remaining from last year.— (Cribb, Southsea.)

LAST OF THE WATCH-HOUSES.

This is the last of London's old watchhouses, situated at the rear of Coutte's old premises in the Strand. It was last used by a detective, who kept watch over the removal of the bank treasures.

WHERE KUROKI MET KUROPATKIN.

The only bridge across the Taitse River. It was here that General Kuroki crossed the the object of cutting off General Kuropatkin's retreat towards Mukdon.

Louis Wain's pictures of lady decies's atsi

The cat paradise is at Birchington-on-Sea, where Lady Decies has her world-famous "cattery." By her ladyship's courtesy Mr. Louis Wain, the well-known delineator of feline features, was enabled to make these drawings specially for the "Daily Mirror." The first picture is Champion Fulmer Snowstorm, a winner of many prizes, and possessing the finest blue eyes of any white cat living. In the centre is Fulmer Snowdrop, a beautiful white Persian. The cat on the right is Champion Black Bobbie, winner of five championships.—(See page 13.)

KILLED ON THE ALPS.

Rev. H. Palin Gurney, the principal of the Armstrong College of Science, who recently lost his life while mountaineering on the Alps.—(MacFadyen.)

DOGS IN HOLLAND.

Lady Meath has written to the "Times" protesting against the overworking of dogs in Holland, where they are used as beasts of burden. Our photograph shows three dogs drawing a greengroor's barrow near Delft.

THE ALPINE DISASTER.

The Gran Paradiso, the scene of the fatal accident on the Alps, by which four Englishmen, Messrs. Clay, Winterbotham, Meryon, and Wright, lost their lives.

THE ARMY MANCEUVRES IN ESSEX.

Showing the horse picket lines of the Royal Engineers near Colchesters

In the neutral camp at Bentley: Men stacking up the hay supply for the horses taking part in the manouvres.

IN CLOTH FOR COOL SEPTEMBER. JUVENILE FASHIONS

Women who formerly thought one belt enough for the autumn season are now supplying them-selves with from six to a dozen. One of them declares that her autumn outfit is quite made by declares that her autumn outfit is quite made by her numerous belts. Being short of figure she blans them so that they come far down, making a becoming point below the natural waist line. They are constructed in a great variety of ways from a very great variety of materials, and suede, soft, glossy kid, satin, and velvet are among them.

Of course, the beauty of the belt depends a great deal upon its buckle or clasp, and this is one reason why the good girdle is so expensive. There are buckles that are beautiful enough for the handsomest jewel case, and the woman who owns there exquite affairs is as careful of them as of his case. The condition of them as of the case with the condition of the case with the case with the handsome belt is worn, but with the house and evening dress as well. Indeed, many of the most successful dinner gowns quite depend for their beauty upon the little items of dress—the belt, the sash, and the other waist gamishings—while not secondary to these are the neck trimmings, which are numerous and most varied.

The dress shown above has a double tunic edged with velvet, which trimming is repeated on the corsage to form the buttoned bands. Interchangeable fronts can be worn with it.

The Fluttering Scarf.

This is certainly the day of fluttering and flying decorations for the shoulders, though some women seem to find the greatest difficulty with the arrangement of the long mustin gause or chiffon scarves, which are worn about the neck or shoulders. Yet it is worth while studying the art of wearing them; so beautiful are they. Satins and crepes de Chine are used for the background of many, and one beautiful affair is made of soft pink silk, embroidered with gold baskets filled with forget-menots. All round the scarf there is a lace border and knots of blue ribbon appear at intervals.

It is autonishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing what one can do in dress in these days with the aid of a veil, though the extra-flex standishing that one the table. Consequently, this makes a leatter more deafening, if less irritating, than the underwhat the standishing that the table. Consequently, this makes a leatter more deafening, if less irritating, than the underwhat the standishing that the table. Consequently, this makes a leatter more deafening, if less irritating, than the underwhat the standishing that the table. Consequently, this makes a leatter more deafening, if less irritating, than the underwhat the consequently, this makes a leatter more deafening, if less irritating, than the underw of an inch, and these make a very pretty frame for a pretty face.

THE ETCETERAS OF DRESS.

Then there is the veil that is flower-trimmed.
There is a row of small flowers tacked all round the edge of the veil to form a borrer, and, at the back, there is a bunch or spray, as the case may be, of these same flowers, arranged to fall over the hair.

A HOUSEWIFE'S HINTS.

CUSHIONS COVERED WITH GOATSKIN.
Pictures show to particular advantage against a

THE LARDER IN RUSSIA.

NO MOIST SUGAR AND NO CHURNS AVAILABLE.

An English woman residing in the interior of Russia thus describes her housekeeping experience: "As moist sugar is unobtainable on the steppes one is obliged to break up a huge 2lb. or 3lb. lump into pieces and crush it with a pestle and

3lb. lump into pieces and crush it with a pestle and mortar. I believe that churns may be procured in big towns, but they would be very expensive, and the English residents in country villages, who do not care for the smoke-flavoured Cosack butter, make their own by shaking cream in a big bottle. "The Cosack servants are capital laundry-women, though their washing appliances are somewhat primitive; they use large, low, wooden troughs to wash the clothes in, and boil them in open boilers. The system of mangling is rather curious; first, they wrap the things carefully around a wooden roller, like a pastry pin, then press it up

Pictures show to particular advantage against a background of plain brown or green.

A welcome change from the regulation coloured wicker furniture is found in the chairs and tables in French grey that made their appearance this season. The designs are the same as in past years—it is the colour that is the attraction.

The latest idea in pillow covers consists of two squares of goatskin, laced round the four sides with silk cord, and decorated at each corner with a cluster of loop ends.

White cloth makes the loveliest of autumn frocks for a girl, and the above model is a specially charming one in that fabric.

Horsehair is used for upholstering mahogany furniture, but it is a new variety of horsehair in soft colourings, embellished with a small geometrical design.
Majolica ware is being revived and is sold in deep brown and green tones, with decorations in relief.
To make a room appear larger than it really is use wall-paper without any pattern.
A hot-water jug, warranted to keep water hot for at least two hours, is manufactured in several sizes. The secret of the heat-retaining property of the jug is to be found in an inner casing, separate from the actual jug, the space between the two being filled with a felt or finnel jacket, on the principle of the Chinese teapot, or a well-known case used by sportsmen for luncheon.
A convenience appreciated by folk whose time is spent in lodgings not equipped with the latest ideas in cooking apparatus is the folding chafing dish. The legs and all the etceteras can be packed inside the chafing dish, which takes up little room in a trunk.

HAPPY INDEPENDENCE.

WOMEN WHO ARE SATISFIED WITH SPINSTERHOOD.

To girls the thought of being an old maid often carries a certain horror, which is, after all, very misplaced. It is quite true that a happy marriage is, for all women, the highest completion and crowning of life, and it is natural and right for girls to hope for it in their own lot; moreover, it is very to hope for it in their own lot; moreover, it is very much to be desired for them by people who are fond of them, and have their interests at heart. But though a happy marriage is a most excellent and desirable fate, all marriages are not of necessity happy. Many a wife looks back with envy upon her girlhood, and would gladly return to its free and happy days. And in this country, at least, there must always be a great number of women into whose lives marriage cannot enter at all.

There are so many more women than men in England that a great proportion must die unmarried. This being so, ig us slook a little into the question, and see whether those who are destined to remain unmarried need regard their lot altogether as a down.

In these days the condition of a spinster has enter-remain unmarried need regard their lot altogether as a doom.

In these days the condition of a spinster has enormously altered from what it used to be. Now, if a woman does not marry, the is no longer an object of pity or of contempt. She has her own recognised place and work in the world. Indeed, her sphere is larger than the world. Indeed, her sphere is larger than the world. Indeed, her sphere is larger than the world in the married woman does, is more in the world in the married woman does, is more in the world in the married woman does, is more in the world in the world in the sphere world in the world in the sphere world in the world in the

TARGET SHOOTING.

Here is a game for a rainy day, which will teach the children a clever little trick, besides affording them a very pleasant hour.

Make a small paper target and lean it against some books on the table. Now get some needles flarge ones are best) and see if you can throw their against the target so that their points will stick in it. Although you may try many times and stand very near the target, you will not succeed; for the geedles will refuse to stick in the paper, but will fall on the table.

Now put a short piece of thread, say four or five inches long, in the eye of each needle, and note the result. When this is done you can throw the needles ever so much further and straighter, and they will stick into the target almost every time.

time.

When you have accomplished this much you can have plenty of fun seeing how close to the bull'seye you can come with your novel darts.

DOCTOR SAYS:

"She Must Have Pure Food."

Indulgence in improper or poorly cooked foods, without doubt, often aggravates ills which nutritious well-cooked food will, to a great extent, alleviate. This is entirely reasonable when we consider that every tissue, bone and mustle in the body is made from and must have food, and good food, to ensure health.

Grape-Nuts fully cooked breakfast food meets these requirements to the fullest extent, as is proven by thousands of letters from people who are using it by thousands of letters from people who are using it daily.

A woman living in Hollywood, Co. Down, tells what great benefit her sister secured through the use of this scientific food:

"My sister has been in a bad state of health for the last two years, the result of improper food; the last two years, the result of migroper food; the body not being properly nourished, once the rung-became affected with phthisis. She can to a hospital for consumptives, where she remained, getting neither better nor worse, suffering from indigestion, having to resort to medicine open her bowels. After three months in the applied she can bome and continued that took to vomiting. That was the worst of the she work of the she work of the work of the she work of

MAUD BAKER

(From KATE REILEY),

to offer a Special Made Corset to Measure, from One Guinea. The latest from Paris:
Hours 10 to 5. MARYLEBONE ROAD, N.W. 123.

Always the best start for the day, but never more so than in hot weather.

"MARGUERITE."

Miss Lena Ashwell's First Appearance as Actress-Manageress.

Last night, at the Coronet Theatre, Miss Lena Ashwell appeared for the first time as an actress-manageress with "Marguerite," an English adapta-tion, by Mr. Michael Morton, of "La Montansier," by MM. G. A. de Caillavet, Robert de Flers, and Jeoffrin

"Marguerite" is a showy costume play, and its period may be indicated by the fact that the French Revolution plays the part of an incidental background to it.

Love in a Shop.

The Revolution, however, has not come about in the first act, when the dandies of the Parisian noblesse are at liberty to lay their hearts at the feet of Marguerite, the lovely niece of the keeper of an old curiosity shop, and herself an actress.

Besides the noblesse there is one other who adores Marguerite in the person of Neuville, an actor and a man of all the virtues and heroisms. In the second act of the play Marguerite is managing a theatre of her own, and Neuville, her leading man, is being driven distracted by his love leading man, is being driven distracted by his love for her and her caprices.

The French Revolution is now in full swing, and the aristocrats of the earlier act have all been guillotined, with the exception of Philippe, Marquis de Pomneuse, who comes through perils to see Marguerite in her theatter in Paris. She, by sub-stituting him for a just expected new actor, con-trives to save him from the pursuit that is very hot at the heels of belated Royalists.

at the Beets of belated Royalists.

The next act brings us into a camp in a ruined castle that Marguerite's actors—now turned soldiers of the Republic—are holding against the Austrians. Here Philippe deserts from the Republican army to join his aristocratic friends who are fighting on the Austrian side, and, at the rather thrilling end of the act, Neuville rescues him, and brings him, stunned but not seriously injured, and deposits him at Marguerite's feet.

That deed accomplished Marguell.

at Marguerite's feet. That deed accomplished, Neuville thinks that all is over betwirt him and Marguerite, but a genial, elderly actor, St. Phat, brings them together by the little artifice of obliging them to rehearse a quarrelling scene, which turns in their hands into a genuine reconciliation.

The honours of the occasion went, naturally, to Miss Lena Ashwell, who played with very great power in the stirring finale of the third act, and with gentle tenderness in the little idyll with which with gentic tenerness in the more many was the play concludes.

We have only space to mention, amongst a generally satisfactory cast, the excellent Neuville of Mr. Frank Mills, the pleasantly imagined St. Phat of Mr. Charles Groves, and the attractively vivacious Mile. Seneda of Miss Sydney Fairbrother.

GRAND DUKE'S MAGNUMS.

Tagravitch's Birth.

The birth of a son to the Tsar was a severe blow to at least one man, the Grand Duke Michael, who, until the Thursday, had been heir-presump tive to the throne, writes our St. Petersburg correspondent.

I learn, on the authority of a gentleman of the Court who was present when the news was broken to the Grand Duke, that he turned pale and appeared about to fall, but with a great effort controlled himself and dropped on his knees in prayer. Later in the day the Grand Duke, unaided, consended when the control of the health and long life of the newly-arrived the health and long life of the newly-arrived.

GIANT DRUM-MAJOR.

During the six months' English tour, which will open at the Albert Hall on September 24, the famous Scottish-Canadian band known as "The Kilties" will give 362 concerts, thirty of which will be in London.

will be in London.

The special features of these concerts—the male choir, the vocal solos, the Highland dances, the bagpipes, and the bugles—combine to make them niquely interesting.

Donald MacCormack, the drum-major, is seven

BETTER THAN BEEF.

One Man Who Was Hurt by the An Attempt To Popularize Eland Steak in England.

An attempt is to be made to breed the cland for the English dinner table.

One or two wealthy landowners, including the Duke of Westminster, are already experimenting to see how clands endure existence in British parks;

The flesh of the cland is delicious, especially that of the old bulls, whose hearts become encased in of the old builts, whose dearts become encased in a mass of fat. The animal comes from South Africa and is as large as an ox.

Of course, it would take many years to put eland's teaks within reach of the poor man's pocket.

At present they are a rare dish, even at the table of millionaires. A dinner including a cut of eland at a West End restaurant will cost at least £3 3s. a benefic set he food along. head for the food alone

MOVING CHEESES.

One of the madmen whose madness has arisen through the introduction of taxameters in the Paris cabs was taken in charge yesterday, writes our Paris correspondent.

He imagined himelf to be a State official charged

He imagined nimelt to be a State official charged with fixing taxameters on everything moving. He therefore entered a cheese shop, and planted little flags in Roqueforts and Camemberts until the proprietor threw a Swiss cheese in his eye.

LOVE AT A PRICE.

By J. B. HARRIS-BURLAND.

 CHAPTER 4 The Downfall. XXVI. ****

The news fell on the Stock Exchange like a thunderbolt. Some had believed Gramphorn to be guilty, others had staked their faith on his inno-But no one had expected an open confession They had all looked for a denial and a subsequent enquiry, and then the truth either one way or the

The shock was staggering in its intensity. As the news was passed round the Mashangweland market a hush fell over the whole house. Men stared at each other in silence, as though trying to realise the situation. For a moment they forgot their business, forgot their own interests in the matter, forgot even that a storm had burst above their heads which would sweep some of them into a pitiless sea of ruin. They only remembered that the great John Gramphorn, the idol of England, the prince of financiers, the man to whom all eyes had been turned as to a great patriot and leader of men had, himself, confessed to a fraud which would scarcely have been ascribed to the meanest little company-monger in the City.

But the pause was only momentary. In a flash in a second of time, Gramphorn was forgotten. The crisis rose up overwhelming and gigantic. Every man's mind was turned to his own position. A single question broke the silence. Two or three others chimed in, and then there was an uproar others chimed in, and then there was an uproar and clamour of voices, and the eyes of the whole House were turned to the Mashangweland market. The panic had begun.

The noise was deafening. The scene resembled Epsom platform on a Derby Day. Stockbrokers' clerks pushed and josteld and fought to get to the jobbers. The latter, white-faced and perspiring, struggled to keep themselves from being lifted clean off the floor. Prices were asked, and the answers came back like pistols-shots. Each quocation was lower than the last. Everyone was selling. A few small orders to buy came in, but they were allower and lower, and in less than half an hour Mashangweland Investment Trusts stood at 3 to 34. In the morning's papers they had been quoted at 62 to 64.

Then two smartly-dressed youths, with hair carefully parted in the middle and orchids in their buttonholes, entered the House and flung themselves into the melée. They were not in any way remarkable, sawe for the keen and eager look on their boyish faces. But all eyes were turned on them. They were two of Loden's authorised clerks, and, as they fought their way good-naturedly to two of the biggest jobbers in the market, a sudden silence began to fall on the shouting, jost-ling crowd. Everyone craned forward to hear what words might fall from the lips of those two smooth-faced boys: It was a crucial moment. There was one question in everyone's eyes.

"Is 67-mphorn going to buy, or is he going to sell?"
One of the youths struggled to the side of a

One of the youths struggled to the side of a gigantic jobber, and asked for a price in Mashang-welmad Investment Trusts. The jobber looked down from his 6ft, 2in, of massive and comfortable flesh and scrutinised the boy's face with a quick at the control of the glance. The face suddenly became vacuous and uninteresting. It was a game of poker, a game of bluff. Did the boy want to buy or sell? For the moment he represented Gramphorn.

"3½ to ¾," said the jobber. The boy merely handed him a ship of paper, and the listeners were disappointed. The jobber nodded and smiled. The next man who asked the price of Mashangweland Investment Trusts found that they were 4 to ½. Gramphorn had thrown the weight of his enormous fortune into the scale, and was buying heavily. The fact in itself was significant, and for a few moments there was a rush to buy the shares at low prices, and the quotations went up and up, till they stood at 5. Then they began to fall away again, and all through the afternoon till the House was closed, and in the Street afterwards till it was dark, the battle raged with varying fortune. Prices jumped up and down, and brokers tore their hair in despair. Many of them shut up their books. Mashangweland Investment Trust closed at ½ to ½, and share weight to have gramphore. at 43 to 48 at 4½ to 4½.

For three days and three nights John Gramphorn never left his office. In the silence of his darkened room he fought every inch of the ground with his adversaries. His meals were brought to him, and each night he snatched a few hours' sleep in one of the easy chairs. But he was always there on the spot, in the heart and centre of the machinery that moved at his bidding.

At the end of the three days Gramphorn was a poor man, but he had saved the City from a gigantic panic, which would have affected every market on the Stock Exchange. He had poured out all his vast wealth in the contest. Consols, foreign stocks, shares in other companies, country market on the Stock Exchange. He had poured out all his wast wealth in the contest. Consols, foreign stocks, shares in other companies, country estates, London houses, were all flung into the arena, and eagerly devoured by those who were selling like maniacs. The disaster had brought out all the finest traits in his character. He could have left his shares to take care of themselves, and have retired, with an enormous fortune. But he scarficed himself to save 10,000 fools from ruin. While all were selling he bought, bought, bought, at the end of the three days his assets consisted of the house in Park-lane, mortgaged for £40,000, £10,000 in Consols, and nearly a million shares of the various Mashangweland companies.

The battle was over. The fearful panic of a sudden fall had been averted. He had saved the City, but he had lost, almost without hope of recovery, nearly five millions of money. For he could no longer support the market, and he knew that the prices would fall away to almost zero. But they would fall away gradually, for the panic was a thing of the past.

He left his office, and, returning home, slept for nearly livemity four house. He was nearly the miles here are the support of the past, were not in the could not be supported to the support of the past.

was a tung of the past. He left his office, and, returning home, slept for nearly twenty-four hours. He was worn out in body and in mind. But he rose from his bed as energetic and masterful as ever. It was significant that his first thoughts were for Juliet Aumerle. He sent for a friend of his, a well-known theatrical sneedlator.

"Salisbury," he said, coming to the soon as the man entered the room, "who think the Pantheon Theatre is worth?"

"About £65,000," was the reply.

"Well, it is mortgaged for £40,000. Do you are to buy it?" care to buy it?"
"My hands are pretty full at present," Salisbury renlied, cautiously. "What's the lowest you'd repiled, cautiously. "What's the lowest you'd take?"

"I will sell it for £00,000," said Gramphorn, lighting a cigar; "but you must give me a written guarantee that you will let Miss Aumerle remain as the nominal lessee for seven years, and that you will pay her £40 a week."
"Impossible," said Salisbury, bluntly, "she was a failure in the last piece. The theatre would be run at a loss."
"Well, what will you offer?" asked Gramphorn.
"I shall not consider any offer unless Miss Aumerle stays at the theatre.' Salisbury frowned, and seemed lost in thought.
"I will give you £43,000," he said suddenly.
"I will take it;" Gramphorn replied. Salis-bury's eyes sparkled, but he looked suspiciously at Gramphorn, as though trying to ascertain the motives that lay behind the acceptance of this ridius offer. "Is this a firm acceptance?" he said, after a pause.

"Absolutely firm," said Gramphorn. "I will have the papers prepared to-night. I only make one other condition. You must say nothing to sayone about the contract with Miss Anmerle."

anyone about the contract with Miss Atumeric. "Certainly not, my dear chap," Salisbury said, rising to his feet. "Certainly not; good-bye." The two men shook hands, and Salisbury left, wondering in his own mind how a man, who had been ground down so small in the mills of financial adversity, could apparently sacrine. 220,000 for the sake of an actress, however beautiful and however, charging."

for the sake of an actress, however beautiful and however charming.

Half an hour after Salisbury's departure Gramphorn took a cab and drove to Edwardes-square. He found Juliet dressed in black. Her face was very white, and there were drak rings under her eyes. It was their first meeting since Stanyon's death. She rose as he entered the room, but she did not extend her hand, "Miss Aumerle," he said humbly, "I have come to ask your forgiveness. I know well what you must think of me."

"I only know," she replied slowly, "what you have done. Heaven forbid that I should judge you, Mr. Gramphorn,"

"I arm not ashamed of what I have done," said Gramphorn, "I acted from the best of motives. I have not come to excuse myself. I only came to say how grieved I am that I should have drawn you and—and him into my schemes, that I should have drawn you and—and him into my schemes, that I should have drawn you and—and him into my schemes, that I should have and—and him into my schemes, that I should have caused you suffering." He stopped, and she was silent.

"My God, Juliet," he cried, passionately, "do you not believe me? You know I love you. You know I would not willingly hurt a hair of your head, or injure anyone you love. You know this."

He stepped forward a pace, and searched her white face for some sign of pity. Juliet could not answer. She knew well enough that Gramphorn loved her, and she knew, too, that his love had been the cause of the terrible blaw that had fallen on her head. George Stanyon had committed suicide in a fit of jealous rage, and his last thoughts had been of vengeance on the man who stood before her.

I, too, have suffered," continued Gramphorn in "I, too, have suitered," continued Gramphorn in a pleading voice. "I am a ruined and discredited man. All that I have worked for has been swept away—money, honour, the glory of England, the expansion of her territories. It has all gone. Surely, George Stanyon has been revenged." "His death is not the worst," she answered, "it is his dishonour." "You worm him" said @Bomblour, work is his dishonour."

"You wrong him," said (Mamphorn mag-nanimously. "The dishonour is mine. He was poor and wanted money to marry you. I tempted him, and he fell. He did this for you, Juliet. I alone am to blame. I have been punished. I have come to ask your forgiveness."

am to blame. I have been punished: I have come to ask your forgiveness."

Juliet turned to him and held out her hand in silence. He grasped it in his strong fingers, held it for a moment, and then turned away from her. "I forgive you," she said in a trembling voice, "but I cannot forget. I know the story of the last few days. I know you have sacrificed your entire fortune to save the City from a panie. You are a great man, Mr. Gramphorn, greater even in your misfortune than in prosperity. But—I cannot forget."

"You know," said Gramphorn abruptly, "that Stanyon left you all his money. Of course, you have had nothing. But he had a lot of money on him when he died. If they should recover—"

"Don't talk of his money to me," she cried, "I know where he get it."

"This last piece of yours at the Pantheon Theatre," he said, after a pause, "it has been a failure?"

a failure?"
"Yes," said. Juliet quietly, "it was produced the day after—after he died. I could not do myself justice. I am very sorry—for your sake."
"I cannot afford to run the theatre at a loss,"

/To be continued.)

Gramphorn continued. "I am a poor man. I have sold the theatre."
"Of course," Juliet replied. "I am very grateful to you for what you have done already. Few men would do so much for a girl who can give nothing in return. I shall be all right. I can get another engagement," Gramphorn laughed.
"There will be no need formet to do ther?"

engagement." Gramphorn laughed.
"There will be no need for you to do that," he said. "I have arranged for you to stay on at the Pantheon Theatre as nominal lessee at 4840 a week. I made it one of the conditions of the sale." Juliet turned to him with tears of gratitude sale." Juliet turned to him with tears of gratitude in her eyes.

"You did this for me," she cried, "you had time to think of me when all your strength and ability were required to save yourself from min! What did it cost you? Tell me at once what it cost you to make this arrangement."

cost you to make this arrangement."
"It cost me nothing," Gramphorn replied; "the man who has bought it was only too glad to secure your services." Juliet looked at the stern face of the man who loved her. It was impassive as the face of a marble statue. But her heart cried out to her that he had lied. She advanced, and held out both her hands. He took them in his strong fingers and bent his head over them in silence.

silence.

"Mr. Gramphorn," she murmured, "the last piece was a failure. No man would be glad to secure my services. This arrangement has been made at your expense."

"You are mistaken," he said coldly; "it has cost me nothing. I can afford nothing."

"Well, even if it cost you nothing," she cried, "I thank you from the bottom of my heart. I will repay you some day."

He still held her hands, and his whole frame trembled with emotion. He longed to clasp her in his arms, but he knew it was impossible after what had happened.

"Good-bye," he said hoarsely, and, dropping her hands, he turned on his heel and left the room

"Good-bye," he said hoarsely, and, dropping her hands, he turned on his heel and left the room without another word.

He returned to his office and worked until six o'clock. Then he drove to his house in Park-lane, and going straight up to his study cast his eyes over the pile of evening papers that lay on his writing-table. The lines on his face deepened, as he read column after column of abuse.

Since Gramphorn's confession in the board room of the Mashangweland Investment Trust, he had learned how quickly the public can turn against a fallen idol. The whole Press of England bad turned against him, and he was not able to buy their silence. There was a grim humour in the whole thing. Gramphorn knew well enough where the shoe pinched; they were annoyed that there was no gold in Mashangweland.

That very night after dinner a large mob of roughs, ofganised by a man who had lost his entire fortune in the slump, gathered outside his house in Park-lane, howling and yelling with beery and strident voices. A stone was thrown at one of the windows, and this was followed by a volley of well-directed missiles. -Gramphorn sat in his chair, and his face grew very white, as he heard the glass go tinkling to the floor. The noisy demonstration outside was an emblem of the attitude of all England. This was the reward of patriotism! He leant over his desk and bowed his head in his hands.

Suddenly an inspector and a constable were ushered into the room. Gramphorn looked up at them and sniiled grimly. At any rate, he had the protection of the law. The inspector advanced to his side.

"I have a warrant for your arrest, Mr. Gramphorn," he said, quietly, "on the charge of conspiracy to defraud."

Gramphorn rose to his feet with clenched hands, and a wave of passion shook his whole body. Then he shrugged his shoulders.

"I will come at once," he replied.
Outside there was a terrific chorns of yells, and a stone flew through the broken window and struck him on the face.

THE POISON ROMANCE OF THE CENTURY

"Oh, My Love, Why Will You Leave Me?"

THE AGONY OF L'ANGELIER.

Madeleino Smith, a beautiful, young Scotch girl, was tried in Edinburgh on June 30, 1857, for the murder of her lover.

Without question the lover, Emile l'Angelier, died of poisoning, for in his bedy were found, after death, no fewer than 88 grains of arsenic.

After an historic trial, made more notable by the production of a passionate series of love letters from Madeleine to L'Angelier, the jury returned a Scotch verdict of "Not Proven."

During our study of the Maybrick case this great trial and remarkable verdict were often mentioned; striking parallels botween the two cases were established; and a request came from many of our readers that we should relate the circumstances of the older tragedy.

The motives urged against Madeleine Smith at her trial were (1) that she had tired of her secret intrigue with L'Ange tier, a penniless clerk, whom she knew her wealthy parents would never let her marry; (2) her family was forcing her into an ongagement with a neighbour, a Mr. William Minnoch, a prosperous young Glas gow merchant; (3) L'Angelier would not release her, but threatened to show her terrible love letters to her father.

To-day we follow the story of Madeleine Smith and her lover through the January of 1857. She is waiting for a chance to be "off" with him before she formally betrothes herself to William Minnoch, CHAPTER VIII.

The Shadow of Death—L'Angelier's Last Weeks on Earth—Mad with Jealousy—Last Flicker of the Love That Died.

The dawn of 1857. L'Angelier's last year on earth, found him inhabiting a single room in a humble but clean lodging-house, kept by Mrs. Anne Jenkins. Her husband was a travelling joiner, much away from home, and she appears to have given almost motherly attention to the young foreigner staying at her house.

During these closing days, indeed, L'Angelier seemed more than ever able to ingratiate limself with those with whom he came in contact. He had the pleasant foreign manner, Lose soft, callike, caressing tricks, which did not fail to win over the reserved Scottish people among whom he found reserved Scottish people among whom he found himself, whether his kind old landlady, his fellow clerks, his employers, or the young merchants among whom he mixed.

L'ANGELIER'S LAST CHRISTMAS

among whom he mixed.

L'ANGELIER'S LAST CHRISTMAS.

Christmas-time and the New Year, a festival so full of joy for those with homes in the city where he was a stranger, found him chained to his one bare room, without many places to go to, without much money to spend. Take it how you will, it meant rather a pitiable existence for a man of nearly thirty, who by rights should have had a bright home of his own, however poor it might have been. But it was far worse for L'Angelier, since the being without whom there could be no home for him dwelt far apart in an affluence she showed less and less inclination to leave. "He always kept late hours, especially at this time," said his old landlady at the trial; but we know, too, under the severer conditions of Madeleine's home at Blythswood-square they often resolved themselves into a melancholy prowl round a barred window, seeing the darkened room which held the human being he loved, but never hearing her voice or seeing the result in a pall thave dispelled the gathering clouds of jenlousy that were settling upon his heart like a pall—as, indeed, his pall they were, the shadows of the grave that lay open and so near in front of him.

So he used to go back from these fruitless vigilis to his humble rooms and toss upon his bed throught selepless nights, driven mad by the throughts of Madeleine in the company of that dreaded rival who-could buy for her all the luxuries of life, agains whom he, L'Angelier, knew that he must go down. He was too shrewd a main among women. He had had his initiations before in the trials of love not to gaslies deep down in his heart the truth of the adage, "Lex absents sont tonjours tous."

He read into Madeleine's letters—he knew well enough the vital change that had come over them; and though he may have tortured himself with details that in reality were the figments of his brain, the basis of his fears was fully justified. She was slipping away from him, the dream was over, he must go back to his desk, his little room, his penurious life, his humdrum days, a stranger in a strange lead set from pone for more condensued. his penurious life, his humdrum days, a stranger in a strange land, yet too poor to move, condemned to wander as a phantom about the streets which once had been Paradise. For he had played too often with women himself not to have been caught at last. This girl, this almost child, held him in the hollow of her hand, and in his brain this thought, half unformed, kept haunting him, "I can never give her up, whatever the cost may be."

HIS WILD GRIEF.

At the office he made no attempt to hide the torture of his mind. He would burst into tears and then, in the midst of his sobs, would tell this friend or that one how cruelly he was being treated. His or that one how cruelly he was being treated. His days were spent in pouring out tempestuous appeals for mercy. And these were alternated with harsh abuse, jealous revilings, which at last succeeded in driving Madeleine into equally angry answers. But, though absolutely careless how much or how often he wrote, he never once seemed to forget that his letters must not be left intact. Right to the end we find him ordering Madeleine to destroy them or return them. Why, it is a little difficult to understand. What was his motive? He always had hers to use as a hundle over her, and whether his to hers were found or not, or even read, could have made very little difference. But still, that was his settled plan, and he was a man who did not act simelissly, however hysterical he was.

The early days of January went by. Many nights in that first week were spent by him walking up and down, in prant down, in front of Madeleine's barred windows. The bilinds were often undrawn from eight till eleven, showing quite clearly leine's barred windows. The blinds were often undrawn from eight till eleven, showing quite clearly that the family were at the theatre or at a dinnerparty or a concert. On Friday night, January 9, his lovesick agony got the better of his prudence. He clung to the railings and tapped feverishly against the window, but all was darkness. With a muttered cuse he turned and staggered back for his own home. Baffled passion made him walk like a drunken man, and that night was one of the most terrible trials of jealousy that he had ever endured.

'MY LOVER SOFTENS."

With the dawn there came a little gleam of light, a line in the old loving vein which, though it did not deceive him, he allowed to comfort. "It is just eleven o'clock," wrote his mistress, ust eleven o'clock," wrote his mistress, and no letter from you, my own ever dear beloved husband. Why this, my sweet one. I think I heard your stick this evening (praydo not make any sounds whatever at my window), I fear your finger is bad. If it were possible, sweet one, could you not leave my notes at six, as at ten o'clock the moon is up and it is light. I hope, my own ever dear beloved one, you feel Better, and that you are in better spirits. Sweet, dear Emile, I do truly and fondly love you with my heart and soul.

But you, I know, think me cool and indifferent.
I am writing in the dining-room, and I think you are again at my window; but I shall not go downstairs, as Papa would wonder why, and only he and I are up waiting for Jack. I wish I could see you; but no, I must not even look out at the window, as someone might seeme. So, beloved, think it not unkind. If I never by any chance look at you, just leave my note and go away. It is much the best way.
Remember, Janet is in my room. Do you, my sweet beloved Emile, still like your lodgings?
The letter encouraged him to try a new plan. If

The letter encouraged him to try a new plan. He would give her a little of that anxious jealousy which was making his own life a curse. He sent her no answer, and on Monday morning he got a hurried little note exclaiming.

If cannot tell you how sorry I was last night at not hearing from you. . . . If you would risk it my sweet beloved pet, we would have time to kiss each other and a dear, fond embrace. And though, sweet love, it is only for a minute, do you not think it is better than not meeting at all.

meeting at air.

So far successful! He made up his mind to continue the treatment. A few days later he met his mistress by chance in Sauchiehall-street. In any case that always annoyed him. Perhaps he remembered too well that it was in that street he had feet met her, and been just requested. membered too well that it was in that street he had first met her and been introduced to her and marked her down as his quarry. On this occasion he was even more distant, and the next evening, when hanging round the barred window on the chance of a word, congratulated himself that he was conquering my lady with her own weapons. They did not meet that night. The next morning he got, a letter from her. "Well, my dear Emile," she

You did look cross at your Mimi the other day. Why, my pet? You cannot expect that I am never to go on Sauchichall-street. Sometimes I must. It is not quite fair of you. I have kept off that street so well this winter, and yet when you meet me and the first time you have bowed to me this season, that you should have looked so cross. When I saw you, my little pet, coming, I felt too frightened even to bow to you.

And on Sunday, after several days, they meet and make it up, kissing each other through the bars. And, as was always the way with Madeleine —as probably with most human beings—her love was greatest for him the few hours directly after he had left her.

I did love you so much last night when you were at the window.

P.S.—I don't think I should send you this scrawl, but I could not help just when you left

Then in the middle of the week she gets a little colder again. On Wednesday afternoon she writes:—

I cannot see you Thursday as I had hoped. . . . A better chance may soon occur, my dear pet. Jack is out at a party, and the boy will sit up for him, so I cannot see you.

will sit up for him, so I cannot see you.

That letter meant that the lovers had intended one of their rare meetings in the area at Blyths-wood-square. The reader will remember that the page-boy's door governed the house door leading on to that area. So long as he was awake it was quite impossible for Madeleine to unlock the door to admit her lover. But, as we shall find later, L'Angelier and she, although they enjoyed none of the facilities which they had had the preceding winter in India-street, yet did succeed in getting closer together than through the bars of the standard window. There was the area door by the page-boy's room, and there was the area door at the back of Christina Haggart's room. L'Angelier had been inside both, as we shall find before we the back of Christina Haggart's room. L'Angelier had been inside both, as we shall find before we get to the end of our story.

He had got tired of his stratagem by now, and slipped back once more into those passionate reproaches, which came easier to him. On the last Thursday in January he rattled his stick against the bars and tapped against her window again and again in the hope of attracting her attention, but either she was not there or she would not hear, and in the morning there came the usual lip service, the excuses from a hardened heart.

My Dear Emile the solutest from the children of the

My Dear Emile (the coldest form of address she had ever used) I was so very sorry that I could not see you to-night. I had expected an hour's chat with you, but we must just hope for better next time. I hope you are well.

In his letter, to which this was evidently an answer, he had once more broached the subject of an immediate marriage. To that she answered, off-handedly:—

in-handedly:—
I don't see the least chance for us, dear love.
Mama is not well enough to go from home, and my own dear, little, sweet pet, I don't see we could manage in Edinburgh, because I could not leave a friend's house without their knowing of it. So, sweet pet, it must at present be put off till a better time. I see no chance before March. But rest assured, my dear love, Emile, if I see any chance I shall let you know of it.

There remained for the poor wretch one tiny respite. There was to be a final flicker of the girl's love, fanued by what means we do not know. Probably he cared not now what grossness of speech or suggestion he allowed himself in her presence, for those were the means whereby he traded on her passion, and it was by passion alone that he held her. They met the last Sunday night in January. Probably at the window, but we cannot be certain of that; he may have come into one of the area doors.

cannot be certain of that; he may have come into one of the area doors.

He was careless now who saw him. He hung over the window, pushing his arms through and dragging her to him against the bars. It was close upon midnight before they parted, and she, in her usuall fashion, sat her down at once and wrote to him this letter, perhaps the most passionate that she had ever written him, and certainly the last she was ever to write him with a passion for him upon her.

LAST FLICKER OF PASSION

Last Flicker of Passion.

Emile, my own beloved, you have just left me. Oh, sweet darling, at this moment my heart and soul burns with love for thee, my own husband, my own sweet one. Emile, what would I not give at this moment to be your fond wife. . . . We would be happy. Emile, I adore you. I love you with my heart and soul. I do vex and annoy you, but, oh, sweet love, I do fondly, truly love you with my soul to be your wife, your own sweet wife. I never felt so restless and unhappy as I have done for some time past. I would do anything to keep sad thoughts from my mind, but in whatever place something makes me feel sad. A dark spot is in the future. What can it be? Oh, God, keep it from us. Oh, may we be happy—dear darling, pray for our happiness. I weep now, Emile, to think of our fate. If we could only get married all would be well. But, alas, alas If see no chance, no chance of happiness for me. I must speak with you. Yes, I must again be pressed to your loving boson—be kissed by you, my only love, my dearest, driling hasband. Why were we fated to be so unhappy? Why were we made to be eight separate? My heart is too full to write more. Oh, pardon, forgive me. If you are able I need not say it will give me pleasure to hear from you to-marrow night. If at ten dear it may not be asleep, and I will have to wait till she Emile. Good-night, best beloved. Adieu., I am your ever true and devoted. Msnt L'Angeller.

Why were we fated to be so unhappy?

Because you have simend.

"Why were we fated to be so unhappy?"
"Because you have sinned"—that is the answer thurst have waited across acons and some of human sorrow to this poor little losting. "Because you have sinned," "Because you have sinned," "Because you have sinned," "And because from the beginning to the end of time the wages of sin is death."

(fo be continued.)

ECZEMA OF BACK

and SPOTS are cured by 'Antexema.

Don't delay. Get a Bottle To-day.

DIAMOND RINGS, WATCHES, 18ct Gold

Typewriters. Second-hand. Good Condition. Low Prices. List Free Call and Inspect Stock. COSMOS TYPEWRITER SUPPLIES CO., 73a, Queen Victoria St., Londor Telephone, 5410 Bank.

THE CHARING CROSS BANK. THE CHARING CROSS BANK. Est. 1870.

119 and 120. Bi-hopsgratest within, gc. C. London and 28. Bedfordest, Classing Gross, 190.

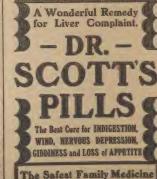

London and 28. Bedfordest, Classing Gross, 190.

London 28. Bedfordest, Classing Gross, 190.

Bedfordest, 190.

6
Special terms for longer periods. There are not quarterly, Special terms for longer periods. The ferminal Deposit Monde pay sample of the area as for the ferminal Deposit Monde pay and for prospecture.

A WILLIAMS and H. J. TALL, Joint Managers.

IN HASTE TO MARRY.

Romance of Barnet Fair Spoiled by a Registrar.

"Say, guv'nor, which is the way to the regis-

The question was addressed to a Mirror representative at Barnet Fair yesterday by a stalwart young man who was accompanied by an attractive lady in a white dress and black picture hat.

Interested and curious, the Mirror man volunteered to show them the way, and en route learned that the couple had, five minutes before, decided that the couple had, five minutes before, decided to get married there and then.

"We've been keeping company a long while," the lady explaint and any's an easy day to be remembered," added her intended. "We can say, "And Barte Fair day's an easy day to be remembered," added her intended. "We can say, "Let's see, we've been married so many years cum next Barnet Fair." See?"

But the registrar had to be reckoned with.

Upon reaching his office that official explained that he could not tie the knot because the parties were not residents in the district, and also because due notice had not been given.

The engaged couple were bitterly disappointed. The lady was the first to recover her self-possession, and she said, philosophically, "Never mind, Bill, we'll be married properly at church."

Business and pleasure were agreeably combined at the famous fair, but the show of horses and cattle was not so large as in previous years.

Of the "games of chance" the three-card trick found most devotees, and five of the exponents fell into the hands of the police. The smallest amount found on one was fifty shillings, while another had nearly £7 in his possession.

PARADISE FOR CATS.

Where High Bred Pets Live in Luxury.

At Beresford Lodge, Birchington-on-Sea, Lady Decies has established a veritable paradise for Lovers of the feline race are sometimes admitted to see the aristocratic residents of the charming garden, where they disport themselves from day to garden, where they disport themselves from day to day.

One coal-black giant, with a bushy tail, of which even a fox would be proud, is Fulmer Bobbie, three times a champion, and, though fierce in appearance, is in reality as gentle as a kitten.

Snowstorm is the name of another soft and dainty cat, coiled up in a corner like a ball of snow. She bears the distinction of having the finest blue eyes of any white cat fiving.

Of slow and stately mien is Aida, the Sultana of Catland. Silver grey, without a blemish, and a long, silky, sweeping tail, she seems impressed with the memory of hundreds of prizes which she has won in past shows.

Not by the fireside are these dainty residents of a cats' paradise fed and protected. In a shady corner of the walled-in garden they sleep in strawfilled boxes fixed in specially-constructed wooden houses, while outside runs with ladders and balls provide them with diversion during the day.

Meat and fish, with an occasional sparrow, and pure water are served in white enamel pans for the older pussies, while milk only is provided for kittens and inwalids.

Mr. Louis Wain has drawn pictures of four of the most beautiful of Ladly Decies's pets and prize-winners for the Daily Mirror. They will be found on pages I and 9.

EMBANKMENT DANGERS.

Two Important Highways Into the City "Up."

The road-mender is always with us, but at present he is rather more conspicuously so than usual. The Embankment and the Strand are both "up" now, in addition to many other thoroughfares.

City men, accustomed to drive along by the river to their offices each morning, find it not only river to their offices each morning, find it not only a perilous but extremely tedious journey just now. The road is clear from Westminster to Templeavenue, but the surface is such as to make it a menace to life and limb to drive at anything over four or five miles an hour.

Deep hollows and pits abound throughout the entire length, and a motor-car can only proceed at anything above a crawling pace by a series of disturbing leaps and bounds, excellent no doubt for the liver, but entirely discomforting to the equilibrium.

Bicyclists who have hitherto used the Embank-

Bicyclists who have hitherto used the Embankment when going east have sought other highways of late, for to travel along it means the dislocation of addle springs and the general loosening of nuts. At Temple-avenue it is necessary to find a tortuous way, via Tallis-treet—always more or less congested by heavy paper vans and newspaper carts—and then into Tudor-street and New Bridge-street. It is nothing for a row of hansoms to wait ten or fifteen minutes each morning at the junction of Tudor-street and New Bridge-street, the the while their occupants revile macadam roadways and the monicipal authorities.

THE "DAILY MIRROR"

GIANT TELESCOPE

Over 3½ feet long.

Sold only to Advertise The "Daily Mirror."

Postage and Packing 6d, extra.

Call at our West End Office, 45, New Bond Street, W., or the "Daily Mirror" Stall, Western Arcade, Earl's Court, and examine this marvellous Bargain for yourself.

sent off strictly in rotation.

YOUR LIFE INSURED FREE AGAINST DEATH OR OLD AGE BY THE "WEEKLY DISPATCH," THE SUNDAY NEWSPAPER WITH THE LATEST NEWS.

Even when the old-fashioned pen and inkwell are handy a fountain pen is pre-ferable as a time saver. It is for that reason a necessity. But there are innumerable occasions in business and in private life when a fountain pen is the only possible means of correspondence. You need one on your holidays. With you can write anywhere and at all times with freedom and pleasure.

TO ADVERTISE THE "DAILY MIRROR"

the proprietors are offering a beautiful fountain pen, exquisitely chased and with neatly engraved bands, for HALF-A-CROWN.

This pen is fitted with twin-feed, acts perfectly, and is packed in a box with ink-filler and instructions. If you are making a present a "Daily Mirror" Fountain Pen will please.

SEND FOR ONE.

PEN DEPARTMENT,
The "Daily Mirror,"
2, Carmolite Street, London, E C. I enclose P.O. for 2/71d., for which please send "D.M." Fountain Pen to > NAME ADDRESS.....

NIB

The Nibs are either FINE, MEDIUM,

You may purchase the pen at the West End Office of the "Daily Mirror," 45, New Bond Street, W.

Also on Sale at all Messrs. W. H. Smith & Son's Bookstalls.

FIRST DAY OF THE ST. LEGER MEETING.

The King at Doncaster-Brilliant Programme-Pretty Polly and St. Amant's Great Rivalry-Their Chances Appraised.

NOTES AND SELECTIONS BY "GREY FRIARS."

giving an assurance of brilliant success. The King, who left London yesterday for Rufford Abbey, where he is being entertained by Lord and Lady Savile, will be present daily at the races. Several horses from the royal stables are entered, but none is likely to be seen this afternoon.

Small as the number of runners will be for the St. Leger, the race arouses the most extraordinary interest because of the meeting of Pretty Polly and St. Amant. No three men casually discussing the merits of the pair are found in agreement, and merits of the pair are found in agreement, and nothing short of the actual bathe to-morrow can decide the question of superiority. Pretty Polly, as well as her great rival, has already arrived at Doncaster. Both wound up their work at Newmarket in a style perfectly satisfactory to their respective managers, and the latest wagering shows that St. Amant increases in favouritism.

Less than 2 to 1 on Pretty Polly is now accepted, and 5 to 2 is the best price obtainable against St. Amant. St. Denis is the only other candidate quoted. That colt may be as good, or better, than his friends assert, but for an outside chance I should prefer to rely on Almschiff, whose record for the year shows a gradual improvement in every successive win, and the significant fact that the colt has not yet been tested to the leight of his capacity. Andover's resuscitation after his York failure adds to the general interest—a statement which cannot be made about Henry the First, who seemed to grow worse rather than better as the season progressed.

If St. Amant Win.

Anything is possible in racing. The St. Leger has shown what an incalculable game it is. No one can forget the extraordinary victory of Throstle, a mare not reckoned within Islib. Of the cracks she was opposing. The Rollischild colours have had a share of luck in the great race. Few outside the extremest of partisans denied that Dorieles was very -fortunate to beat Volodyovaki. A victory for St. Amant would be truly popular. No of the cracks are supposed to the control of the contr

Pretty Polly's Way.

Pretty Polly's Way.

But I have seen Pretty Polly indulge in this movement although winning in a canter, and with her ears pricked—the latter a sure sign that the filly was merely gambolling rather than exerting herself. So it is safe to assume that Pretty Polly's changing her stride is a mere idiosportasy, and cannot be taken as proof that she is tired. It should be so taken in the great majority of cases.

The grandess thing done by St. Amant was his sensational Derby victory in the storm of thunder, lightning, and rain, the like of which has never before been seen on Derby ady on Epsom Downs. He won by three lengths from John o' Gaunt, and despite the weather conditions his time, 2min. 45 4.5scc, compared favourably with the 2min. 46 1.5scc, compared favourably with the 2min. 46 1.5scc occupied by Pretty Polly, over the same ground with the sun shining, in beating Bitters. The various defeats of St. Amant, however difficult of explanation to outsiders, seem to be taken as of small account by his admirres. On this score, however, the plain man, viewing the position without prejudice, will naturally find his sympathy turning towards the unbeaten filly, for whom, up to the present, it has not been necessary to advance any exouses.

One thing above all is much to be desired—that Doncaster meeting opens to-day under conditions that no excuses can be made for the defeated. There PROBABLE STARTERS AND JOCKEYS. K. Cannon W. Halsey Cras-Lighthead (black Feitor non-dir. F. Alexander's br. c. ANDOVER, by Right-away-Sister Lumley (dark blue, white elecres, black cap) Mr. J. Muster's br. c. HERRY THE FIRST, by Meiton-Simena (light blue, violet sleeres, 1997 (19) D. Maher

There have recently been among a similarly small number of competitors bumping and boring and shutting in. It would be a thousand pities if the last of the year's classics be spoiled by any such last of the year's classics be spoiled by any such tangle.

Two races of great importance are to be decided to-day in the Great Yorkshire Handicap and Champagne Stakes. The running in the former should throw some light on the Cesarewitch, for which, by the way, Wood Pigeon has now become a pronounced favourite. The best two-year-old of the season, Lord Rosebery's Cicero, is not in the Champagne Stakes. There are several Flying Fox fillies engaged, viz., the Duke of Devonshire's Full Cry and Mr. G. Faber's Queen of the Earth. Darling's stable, in addition to the last-named, have sent on The Dhow and Costly Lady, so Beckhampton will play a strong hand with their selected. Verdiana will carry Lord Derby's colours, and Pamfiete the Duke of Portland's. I shall divide a vote between Brother Bill and Pamfiete.

SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY.

DONCASTER.

2. 0.—Fitzwilliam Stakes—Compliment.
2.35.—Doncaster Welter—St. EMILION.
3.10.—Champagne Stakes — BROTHER BILL—PAMPLETE.
3.45.—Clasgow Plate—LITTLE DOLLY.
4.20. — Great Yorkshire Handicap — Hands

Down.
4.50.—Stand Plate—Meadow Music.
5.20.—Clumber Plate—KILGLASS.

SPECIAL BELECTION.

HANDS DOWN GREY FRIARS.

THE TWO BEST THINGS.

"The Squire" sends the following double for to-day's racing at Doncaster :-

2. 0.—Fitzwilliam Stakes—Norman Bride. 4.50.—Stand Plate—Meadow Music."

POINTERS FROM THE BOOK.

2. 0.—Fitzwilliam Stakes — CHAUCER — WILD 2. 0.—Fitzwilliam Stakes — CHAUCER — WILD NIGHT AGAIN. 2.35.—Doncaster Welter — COUNTERMARK — DONNETTA. 3.10.—Champagne Stakes — BROTHER BILL — FULL CRY. 3.45.—Glasgow Plate—Nellie H — Poste

KARTE. Great Yorkshire Handicap-WHISTLING

4.20.—Great Yorkshire Handicap—WHISTLING CROW—SANDBOY. 4.50.—Stand Plate—HAND IN HAND—MEADOW

MUSIC. 5.20.—Clumber Plate—AMERICAN BOY—CAPRESI.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME.

DONCASTER. Mr. A. Harris's Nellie H. (£300) ABOVE ARRIVED.

Mr. Heinemann's Billet Doux (£300)F. Day 3 8 0 Mr. G. Lambton's Uncle Marcus (£300)Owner 3 8 0 Mr. J. T. Wood's Glandore (£300)Watson 3 8 0 Lord Stanley's Stattbolder (£800) Matson 3 7 4	kop
Mr. J. T. Wood's Glandberg (#5300)	Mr. Mr. Mr.
Mr. Cuthbert Wilkinson's Princess Sagan (2300) PAPER SELECTIONS Jocker Kilcheran or Nellie H.	Mr. Mr. Lor
PAPER SELECTIONS.—Jockey—Kilcheran or Nellie H. Chilton's Guide—Compilment. Racing Specialist—Mellie H. Racing World—Ardeer or The Deil. Winning Post—Ardeer.	Mr. Mr.
Acoust violations of the state	Mr.
Hord Carnaryon's St. Emitton Mr. Lionel Robinson's Caravel S. Darling 4 8 9 Sir E. Vincent's Donnetta E. Day Mr. R. Sherwood's Salute Owner 4 8 2	Mr. Lor Sir
	Mr.
Mr. C. H. Hannam's Haven's Fight Societies 4 7 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12	Mr Mr Mr
Mr. J. B. Joel's His Lordship Morton 5 9 7	Mr Mr Du Mr
Mr. R. Sherwood's MorgendaleOwner 4 8 9	Du Mr. Mr
S. Darling S.	Mr His Mr Mr
Lord Falmouth's Flances	Gu
Mr. H. J. King's Mimiery — Leach 6 8 8 3 Mr. H. J. King's Mimiery — Leach 6 8 8 3 Mr. H. Hasta Lychnoblis — A Taylor 6 8 8 Mr. H. Hasta Lychnoblis — A Taylor 6 8 8 1 Mr. H. Hasta Lychnoblis — A Taylor 6 8 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis — J. Chandler 3 7 13 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 4 7 1 1 Mr. T. Kolan's Magnolis II. — Private 5 7 1 Mr. G. Miller 4 Med. Kindler 4 Mr. T. Kolan's Mr. G. A. Private 5 1 7 2 Mr. G. A. J. Schwale Killidda — Private 6 7 7 2 Mr. A. J. Schwale Killidda — Private 6 7 7 0 Mr. G. Prekins's Reckitte — Private 1 Annon 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	Spe
Mr. G. A. Prentice's Siam G. Lambion 3 7 4 Lord M. Beresford's Kirkby Leach 3 7 3 Lord M. Beresford's Kirkby Leach 3 7 3 Major J. R. Scott's Marcova Owner 3 7 2
Mr. C. Perkins's Reckitt	fill
with 1,000 save added for two war aids Pari	ope
House in Mr. Strucker Season (1) Mr. Strucker (2) Mr. Strucker (2) Mr. Strucker (3) Mr. Strucker (3) Mr. Strucker (3) Mr. Strucker (4) Mr. Strucker (4) Mr. Mr. Strucker (4) Mr.	Cei
Mr. W. Bass's High Treason A. Taylor 9 0 Mr. George Faber's Queen of the Earth Darling 8 11 Lord Derey Verdians Mr. G. Lambton 8 11	in
Mr. L. Robinson's The Dhow Durling 8 11 Mr. R. H. Henning's Carita Duke of Portland's Pamilete Porter 6 11 Mr. L. Robinson's Costly Lady Darling 8 11 AROUE APPLYED	nei
MANUAL DEL MANUAL MANUA	2
lord Richester's c by Gallinule—La Joie Barling 9 0 Mr. J. B. Joel's Pure Crystal Morton 9 0 Mr. H. J. King's William Tell Leach 9 0	10
Mr. J. W. Larnach's c by Jeddah-Sandiway	40000
Lord Londonderry's White Ster Line G. Chaloner 8 11	3
PAPER SELECTIONS.—Jockey—Brother Bill. Chilton's Guide-Galangal or Full Cry. Racing Specialist—Full Cry. Racehorse-Brother Bill. Racing World—Brother Bill or Full Cry. Winning Post—Brother Bill. Gale's Special— Brother Bill.	CHOLOLO
O AE-GLASGOW PLATE (Nursery Handican) of 200	53
O-th own, for two-year-olds only. Fire furloads. Mr. G. H. H. Freeman's Tarquin II. Hornely is 13 Mr. A. Harrie's Nellie H. Baths 7 13 Lord Westbury's Gondoiste. Mr. R. W. B. Jardine's f by Queen's Birthdays-Bweet Birth of the State of the Control of the Contr
Brias J. Waugh 7 4 Lord Westbury's Pernmiller Jennings 7 4 Mr. H. B. Joe's Princess May C. Peck 7 4	of ne
Count de Bresson's Pacha Greusil 7 3 Mr. G. A. Prentice's Bombay J. Pownay 7 3 Mr. G. Thursby's Whitsbury Edwards 7 2 Mr. R. W. Cox's Sister Lilia East 6 13	SEW
Mr. J. A. de Rothschild's Missles Downes 6 13 Mr. C. Archer's Little Dolly Owner 6 8 ABOVE ARRIVED.	fu D.
Sir W. Vavazour's John the Little Private 9 0 Lord Harewood's Light o Lore II. H. Sherwood 8 11 Major Eosteen Loder's Magric Mr. Glipia 8 6 Mr. H. N. Nickall's Wauken Phaet Bates 8 2 Mr. H. N. Nickall's Wauken Phaet Mr. Glipia 7 10 Major Eosteen Loder's Membrilla Mr. Glipia 7 10 Major Eosteen Loder's Membrilla Mr. Glipia 7 10 Mr. Franct Breeding Angolico Triade 7 9 Sir R. Waldle Griffith's 0 by Isinglass—Landrallate 7 8	fiv
Mr. H. N. Nickall's Wauken Phase Bates 8 2 Mr. C. Lythe's Biblani Marchiner 7 3 Major Eustace Loder's Membrilla Mr. Glipin 7 10 Mr. J. Lewis's Bagatelle Private 7 9
Mr. C. Perkins's Tarquinius Superbus	Ra
Mr. C. Perkins's Tarquinius Superbus T. Anson 7 8 Mr. L. de Rothschild's Lador (71b es) Watson 7 8 Mr. L. de Rothschild's Lador (71b es) Watson 7 8 Mr. A. Watson 8 Mr. A. Massh's Tremezzo Webb 7 7 Mr. A. W. Merry's c by Peripord-Heather Webb 7 7 Mr. R. C. derrota 8 by Mathimather—Har T. Taylor 7 7 Mr. Richard Croker's Rhododendron In Ireland 7 7 Mr. W. B. Purefoy's Rhoesdard T. P. Fallon 7 Mr. W. B. Purefoy's Rhoesdard 10 Mr. W. B. Purefoy's Rhoesdard 10 Mr. W. B. Purefoy's Rhoesdard 10 Mr. Mr. L. E. B. Homan's Cape Verfe, by Greenlawn—	Si
Mr. Richard Croker's Rhododendron In Ireland 7 7 Mr. W. B. Purefoy's Enceladus Fallon 7 4 Duke of Devonshire's f by Cherry Tree—Last Love	St
Mr. L. E. B. Homan's Cape Verde, by Greenlawn— Tester Walters, jun. 7 2 Mr. A. J. Schwabe's Amersham Pickering 7 2 Mr. H. J. King's Carrelet	20
Mr. H. J. King's Carrelet Leach 7 1 Mr. T. H. Jenkins's f by Seaton—Springtime-Private 7 0 Mr. S. B. Jose's Worcester China C. Peck 7 0 Mr. A. Stechall's Din Sadler, jun. 6 13 Lord Fitowilliam's Day of Reckoning Private 6 11 Mr. W. R. Wyndham's Doola R. Sherwood 6 8 Mr. W. R. Wyndham's Doola R. Sherwood 6	A
Mr. W. R. Wyndham's Dools R. Sherwood 6 8 Mr. G. Cooper's f by St. Gris-Princess Royal.Private 6 6 Mr. H. E. Randall's Captain Pot Sadler, jun. 6 Mr. C. Perkins's Lady Hawker I'Anson 6 4	Po
Mr. H. W. Cox's Fair Stranger East 6 2 Mr. W. H. Hole Toder's Pride of Lothair Private 6 0 Mr. H. Lambert's f by The Rush - Tathwell Yassia
Racehorse-Little Dolly, Racing World-Lador or Little	E4
4.20 GREAT YORKSHIRE HANDICAP PLATE of 1300 sovs; second to receive 200 sovs, and the	La furlongs and 132 yards, Mr. H. J. King's Whistling Crow Leach 4 8 11 Major Eustace Loder's HammerkopMr. Gilpin 4 8 9
Mr. W. Hall Walker's Sandboy Robinson 4 8 7 Mr. J. Musker's McYardley Gilbert 6 8 5 Mr. T. W. Blenkiron's Ambition . W. Nightingall 5 7 12	m B
Mr. George Faber's Loveite	FNP no 5 6
Dolly, Gale's Special-Little Dolly, 4.20 - GREAT VORKSHIRE HANDICAP PLATE of the Commission of the Co	ne 5 6 (2
	2 100

-
0	kop and Ambition. Winning Post-William's Hill or moyle. Gale's Special-Ambition and Sandboy.	Fer
0	4.50 STAND PLATE of 200 sovs. Red House in furious and 152 yards.	a. Ar
4	Mr. J. G. Clarke's Lavengro Private 5	st I
9	Mr. P. Gleeson's Lord of the Level Kelly 4	8 1
8	Mr. G. Thursby's Eastern PrizeG. Edwardes 4	8
6	Mr. W. Alderson's Hand in Hand Armstrong 4	6
H.	Mr. C. Hannam's Guigne Sherrard	7 1 7
eer.	Mr. J. Vasey's Lady C.C Owner 5	7
37	Mr. W. Wakley's JacqueminotPrivate 2	6
lb 8	ABOVE ARRIVED.	-
7	W CO CTYPERING BY AMERICAN AND THE STARTEN	WEST
12	5.20-CLUMBER PLATE of 200 sovs. The Sandall	at 1
6 3	Mr. Richard Croker's American Boy In Ireland 6 Lord Carnaryon's El Maestro	8 1
0	Lord Carnaryon's El Maestro Greusil 3 Sir Daniel Cooper's Ravenshoe Mr. Gilpin 3 Mr. G. Edwardes's Aspendale Major Edwards 5	8
12	Lord Mosebery's Gioriana	7 1
11	ABOVE ARRIVED.
8 3	Mr. W. Goodchild's Schnapps Sherrard 4 Mr. W. M. G. Singer's Hopetoun A. Taylor 5	9
0	Mr. Edmund Lamb's CapotO, Waugh 4	81
7	Mr. E. A. Wigan's Capresi	8 1
4	Mr. F. W. Day's Charmus Owner 3 Duke of Devonshire's Burgundy Geodwin 3	8-
13	Mr. D. E. Higham's Addlestone Mr. Gilpin 3 Lord Howard de Walden's Kilglass Beattr 4	8
11		8
6	Mr I B Laigh's Wood Discon O Chalanan Z	8
3	Mr. Romer Williams's Perpetual J. Wood 3 His Majesty's Piari R. Marsh 3 Mr. H. J. King's Guisel Leach 5	7 1
. 0	Mr. H. J. King's Guisel Leach 5 Mr. A. W. Merry's Airdrie Webb 5	7171
13	PAPER SELECTIONSJockey-Aspendale. Ch.	liton
11	Guide-Burgundy. Racing Specialist-Aspendale. horse-Capresi. Racing World-Aspendale or Kilglass.	Raci
9	Special-Kilglass.	CHILL
8	mon reserved that any government months and which
7	LATEST BETTING.
4	London, Mone	Town
74320	Pretty Polly was well backed for the St. Leger t
0	though at shortening odds, as from 90 to 40 betted o	a th
Spe-	filly the price was reduced to 2 to 1, then to 7 to 4 finally, 76 to 40 was laid on Major Eustace Loder's	and
ld-	didate.
ft.	There was also a rush to get on St. Amant, and opening at 4 to 1; 6 to 2 was offered against Mr. Le	afte

ST. LEGER.
78 to	40 on Pret	ty Polly (laid)
G	2 agat St.	Amant (t and of
20 -	1 - St.	Denis (t)
		CESAREWITCH.
Run	Wednesday.	October 12. Two miles 2 furlongs.)

| Rau Wednesday, October 20. One mile 1 furloug.]
| O to 1 ags Wood Figeon (1, 3rts, 5et 2lb G. Chais')
| O to 1 ags Wood Figeon (1, 3rts, 5et 2lb G. Chais')
| O to 1 ags Wood Figeon (1, 3rts, 7et 2lb G. Marcien (1, 3rt

TRIALS AT NEWMARKET.

J. Watson's All Hot, Filippo, Verdina colt, Queen the Lassies, Simonetti, went a mile. Won by a cct; a bad third.
C. Archer, in the presence of Mr. E. Dresden, sent ir William, Bott Away, and Melrose H. Ave furlongs. C. Archer's Galancine and Cambo were sent five allongs. Won casily.
Major Beatty's Flying Footstep, The Pagan, Ravea's ride, Abecun filly, Cypress, and Dead Head went ce furlongs. Won by half a length; the same distance tween second and third.

LATEST DONCASTER SCRATCHINGS.

Donessies engaquenate-faillymawfry, Contre Soyaf, awen's Pride, Floramour, Kreuchenna, Laputa, Thundardi, Sabdad, Vantriloquist, Dorothy M., Boss Ry, Wicked Hy, Audienbon, Merry Hocke, El Maestro, Mark Time, St. Leget, Provincion, Sabha, Cades, Tasso, Landsmannaria, Kilbarnie, Castelle, Sertories, Marquerite de Valoig, Felix, Grisallis, Salacona, John Segari, S., Biger, Prita-ellis, Salacona, John Segari, S., Biger, Prita-ellis Marchaelle, Salacona, John Segari, S., Biger, Prita-Roy, Prita-Roy, Prita-Roy, Prita-Roy, Prita-Roy, Prita-Roy, Prita-Roy, Prita-Roy, Charley, Prita-Roy, Charley, Prita-Roy, Charley, Prita-Roy, Charley, Prita-Roy, Charley, Charley, Roy, Charley, Charley, plolfy.

Doncaster Stakes.—St. Elgar and Landsman.

Cleveland Handicap.—Catgut, Delaunay, and Beitenebresa.

Clumbar Plate.—Periandslencian.

Bradgate Park Plate.—Valencian.

Doncaster Welter Handicap.—Periander, Catgut.and Sic

Doncaster Welter Handicap.—Periander, Catgut.and Sic

do.

Scarborough Stakes.—Parapet, Lochryan, Love Duet,
Scarborough Stakes.—Parapet, Lochryan, Love Duet, scarborough Stakes.—Parapet, Lochryan, Love Duet,
Fresh Vorskinte Handicaps—Kroonstad.

All handicaps at Doncaster.—General Cronje and Wild.

LAWN TENNIS.

The annual Suscer Championship meeting open tournament was commenced on the Sussex County Ground at Berjahon yearday, in brilliam weather. Results:—Gentlemen's Open Championship—Birst round: S. Fry beat F. Leaver (4-6, 6-3, 7-5); A. Sterry beat A. N. Pazolt (6-1, 3-6, 6-0); J. L. Fliggis beat A. W. Perceval (6-1, 3-6, 6-0); J. L. Fliggis beat A. W. Perceval (6-1, 3-6, 6-3); A. J. Washbourne vo., E. Warnent scratched: A. Docker beat E. T. Jephson (6-1, 3-7, 7-5); C. Harliey beat Rev. C. Safford Jones-Rev. C. Safford Jones-Rev. C. Safford Jones-Rev. C. Ladies' Open Championship.—First round: Miss Maidment w.o., Miss W. Blakiston scratched.

MORE FOOTBALL SURPRISES.

Millwall Show Better Form-Aston Villa Defeated.

WOLVES BEAT BLADES.

Millwall showed very much better form against Plymouth Argyle yesterday than in either of their previous games this season, and by drawing with the formidable Plymouth team in a measure removed some of the bad impressions created by their previous displays, which, to say the least, exercised a disquieting influence on their supporters. cised a disquering innuence on their supporters. Indeed, they should have won yesterday. West Ham and Fulham played a drawn game at Upton. It was a hard struggle throughout, and served to show the Hammers up in a very flattering light against the conquerors of the 'Spurs. For the East End side Bridgeman, the local youth who created such a favourable impression towards the close of last season, scored both the goals.

Sheffield United were defeated at Wolverhampton Sheffield United were defeated at Wolverhampton by the Wanderers, in a game which did not show either side up particularly well. It would appear that the United, who defeated Derby County on Saturday at Sheffield, are not yet wound up to concert pitch. Sunderland, who were beaten by Preston North End on Saturday, reasserted themselves, and gained a brilliant victory over Notts County by the heavy margin of 5 to 0.

In the Staffordshire Cup-ties Birmingham City created a surprise by defeating the Villa by 3 to 1, but neither side was at full strength.

CITIZEN.

ASSOCIATION.

THE LEAGUE.-Division I.

WOLVERHAMPTON WANDERERS, 4; SHEFAbout 800-pectators assembled on the MilieuxGrounds, Wolverpectators assembled on the Milieuxpectators of the Milieuxpectators of the MilieuxLarly in the match Smith failed with a cross-shot, but later Miller beat Foulke, the Sheffield goalkeeper. The Wanderers took up the stated, and Smith, with the read at his mercy, placed them ahead. At half-time Wolverhampton led by 2 goals to 1. In the second half the play was fairly spirited, but of a moderate quality. The Wanderers attacked, and continued to press, and Haywood gained a further point for them. Lang scored for the United, but the Welves maintained their lead, and won by 4 goals to 2.

SUNDERLAND, 5; NOTTS COUNTY, 0.

SUNDERLAND, 5; NOTTS COUNTY, 6.

These teams met at Sunderland in fine weather yeslay, and before about 10,000 spectators. Notis had elimington in goal and Sunderland played Fullerton in grant of the start Bridgert scored for the home team, who after the start Bridgert scored for the home team, who after the start Bridgert score was inmeased by Common from a free kick. When hall-time arrived Sunderland were leading by 2 goals to none.
After changing ends the superiority of the home team was even more marked than before. Further goals were aven more marked than before. Further goals were aven to make the superiority of the home team was even more marked than before. Further goals were

THE LEAGUE.-Division II.

BURSLEM PORT VALE, 2; BLACKPOOL, 2. BURSLEM FORT VALE, 2; BLACKPOOL, 2.
A closely contested game was played at Burslem yearday. In the first minute Hogg scored for Blackpool. In the first minute Hogg scored for Blackpool. In the interval that Capte reputed.

The play in the second half was of poor quality, and turnism had two goals disallowed. Chadwick placed lackpool in front, but Eardley equalised. The match aded in a draw of 2 goals each.

BURNLEY, 2; CHESTERFIELD, 0.

Four thousand people turned out at Burnley to witness this match. The turt was in good order, and with no wind prevailing the conditions were favourable to a good game. During the first half Burnley had the best of matters. They attacked with great spirit, and Hogan coring for them, they led at half-time by one goal to on after change of ends Hogan was hurt and had ettire, but he came back to the field later. Smith and another goal for Burnley, who won by 2 goals

WESTERN LEAGUE.

MILLWALL, 1; PLYMOUTH ARGYLE, 1.

MILLWALL, 1; FLYMOUTH ARGYLE, 1.

Are quite an excellent match at North Greenwich, there are being drawn at one goal all. It was fine, bright football from beginning to end, and Plymouth, who were behind for time-quarters of an hour, equalised in a mill with Graham, the old Celtic forward, playing in the centre again—he was injured last Thursday at West Ham—were quite a good side, and their backs and forwards showed an amount of dash and hish that was the standard of the side of the standard of the side o

WEST HAM UNITED, 2; FULHAM, 2

th sides were at full strength, and during the early, es of the game there were sharp attacks on both of the field. Fulham's defence always showed up inently. At the end of thirty minutes Wardrope, accepting a chance consequent upon a misunderstanding between the West Ham backs, scored first goal for SOUTH-EASTERN LEAGUE.

QUEEN'S PARK RANGERS, 1; WATFORD, 1. In this South-Eastern League match at Park Royal yesterday Watford monopolised the play for more than swiled.

Shortly before the interval Skilton, the well-known Middlesex county forward, got this on behalf of the Rangers, and the game was nearly over when Turner equalised.

STAFFORDSHIRE CUP.

BURTON UNITED, 4; WALSALL, 0.

BURLON UNITED, 4; WALSALL, 0.

There was only a moderate attendance at this cup tie, at Burton yesterday. Both clubs were well represented, but the United had all the best of the play. Gould scored twice in the first half.

After changing ends further points were added by H. Hargreaves and King. Burton United thus won by 4 goals to none.

ASTON VILLA, 1; BIRMINGHAM CITY, 3. Six thousand spectators were present at this match at Aston yesterday, neither club being fully represented. Clarke scored the first goal-for the Villa, and W. Jones equalised, and added another, while later Beer increased the lead of the visitors with a penalty goal.

There was no scoring in the second half, and Birmingham City won by 3 goals to 1.

OTHER MATCHES.

LEICESTER FOSSE, 2; NORTHAMPTON, 1 A friendly match between these clubs was played yester-day at Left-ster in fine weather before a moderate attendance. In the first half Brunton scored for Leicester, and Lane equalised.

After changing ends Durrant got through the Northampton defence, and Leicester Fosse won by 2 to 1.

BRISTOL CITY, 4; BRISTOL ROVERS, 2. BRISTOL CITY. 4; BRISTOL ROVERS, 2:
A "friendly" match between these clubs was played yesterday on the Bristol City Ground, in the presence of about 5,600 people. The City team was at full strength, and the presence of the control of the control

ARSENAL'S NORTHERN CRITICS.

What Newcastle Papers Say About the "Reds'" First Match.

With the Arsenal playing their first match in the First Division of the League on Saturday at Newcastle, against the famous Newcastle United Club, it is interesting to note what the northern ''s's have to say about their commenting on the play, the "Newcastle Daily

In commenting on the play, the "Newcastle Daily romicle" asysticated to use to improve upon last year's Newcastle out to improve upon last year's Newcastle out the improve upon last year's new of the property of the first half, that Newcastle looked nothing like the first half, that Newcastle looked nothing like a visitors made better use of their opportunities, Newstle would have had to do. all they knew to cherge coessfully, instead of taking matters so comfortably in closing stages, southerners fook too much out of maselves in the first half, and Newcastle, without being tended to any great extent, had all their own way after-ords, showing really good football for an opening game. Cokon, on the visiting side—an old Newcastle anameter a success. What smartness the Woolwich attack owed in the first half was multiplied by poor shooting." The Newcastle "Daily Journal," in notes on the match "Newcastle "Daily Journal," in notes on the match

The Newcastle "Daily Journal," in notes on the match agracum-castle United commenced the new League campaign with a magnificent performance against Woolwich Arsenal, whou they defeated by three clear goals, a result which perhaps rather exaggerated the difference in the relative merits of the two teams, but at the same time it was accepted as a good augury of the future efforts of the Novocastrians.

Not Three Goals Inferior.

Not Three Goals Inferior.

"The Gunners, on the day's play, were admittedly not uneeg goals inferior to their reputed adversaries, and the goals inferior to their reputed adversaries, and the goals of their form and the goals of their form amongst the $2,000 spectators was that they ought to figure shouurably in the class to which they have been elevated. Widespread interest was naturally have been elevated. Widespread interest was naturally view of the fact that they were undergoing their first trial of merit against probably the most formidable eleven in the League."

"Woolwich played a good, hard game throughout, and were especially well served in goal, where Ashroft gave a really brilliant exhibition.

"Woolwich gray the says :—"

"Woolwich gray the day well against Templeton and Orr. The halves were all good, especially the nippy little Dick.

"It was at forward, however, where the Asrenal showed Brierciffic, opened well, but were somewhat like passengers in the second half.

"Colema and Gooing performed well, and the latter twice almost brought about the downfall of the home "Woolwich will beat many teams yet, but Newcastle "Woolwich will beat many teams yet, but Newcastle goal. of woolwich will beat many teams yet, but Newcastle look like having the best team in the country, barring accidents."

At a meeting of the Football League Management Committee held yesterday at Wolverhampton it was de-cided to issue a circular calling attention to, the unde-signability of referees and linesmen writing critiques on matches in which they officiate. It was decided to only appoint referees who are registered in the Football Association Class I.

LAST COUNTY MATCH.

Surrey Bat Finely Against Leicestershire-Century by Davis.

At the Oval yesterday the last county match of the season was favoured with truly delightful weather, the sun shining all the afternoon from an almost cloudless sky. The ground had recovered in a wonderful way from the rain that made cricket impossible on Saturday, and Surrey, on winning the toss, gave a remarkable display, scoring 393 and having only six wickets down at the scoring 303 and naving only six wickets down at the drawing of stumps.

On scarcely any occasion this summer has their batting been so even, Goatly being the only man who failed. The pitch, though never difficult, was slow in the morning, and Hayward and Raphael did their side good service by getting, in an hour and twenty minutes, 76 runs for the first wicket. Hayward, however, was not seen at anything like his best, and showed for less than his usually ything like his best, and showed far less than his usual stery over the bowling. Raphael, who left—second ket down—at 114, played a very fine innings, driving d and placing the ball on the leg side. His 59 in-own—at 115, played a very fine innings, driving placing the ball on the leg side. His 59 inlif a dozen 48 at 150 da 127 for two wickets; out the wicket ell at 154, and things did not look from this point, however, the bat was always he ball. Nice and Crawford had raised the score ten Nice ricked his back in some way and had may be an ell and the score of the leg of the of power. His his immings strengthened the impression formed earlier in the season that in him Surrey had found twelve 4.

Baker, not out 70 at the close, played a characteristic innings.

Present score:—

Montgomery and Smith to bat.

Leicestershire team: C. E. de Trafford, C. J. B. Wood, King, Whitehead, Knight, V. F. S. Crawford, R. Joyce, Gill, W. Odell, Allsopp, and Whiteside.

DENTON'S 2.000 RUNS

DENION'S 2,000 RUNS.

Although shern of what had promised to be its principal attraction, owing to the falling through of the match attraction, owing to the falling through of the match of England, the present festival at Scarborough bids fair to be one of the most successful ever held there. Yesterday the first stage of the substituted engagement between powerful, even if not representative, teams of the North and South was favoured by brilliant sunshine, Denton aided to make 58 for the second stand, and in doing so completed his 2,000 runs for the season. The South had about an hour and a half at the wicket at the close of the afternoon, and they started so well out. Then in the common minutes with only one man out. Then there came the presence of the attention of the common control of the common common control of the comm in the last thirty-free minutes without fuffire loss.

R. H. Spooner, c. Huish b
R. Wilkinson, b. Thomp
Son, c. Huish b
Son, c. Huish b
Bytks
Huish to Huish b
Highs
C. Smith, e. Gower b. RessanBytks
Huish b
Holder
C. Smith, e. Huish b
Bosanquet
Bosanquet
G. Smith, e. Huish b
B

SENSATIONAL BATTING AT HASTINGS.

The match between the South of England and the South Africans undersvent some startling changes in South of England and the South Africans undersvent some startling changes in the South Africans undersvent some startling changes in the South Sout a sorry figure against Schwarz and Sinclair that Alec-Hearne, Braund, and Day were all out by the time the score reached it.

For the many state of the state of the state of the state of the innings seven batsmen had been dismissed for 80.

For the moment, apart from the fact that Jessop was still at the wickets, the chances of anything approaching a respectable score appeared extremely remote, but the sate of the state of the state of the state of the Seymour to run for him, rose to the occasion in grand fashion. While the wickets were tumbing down so rapidly he had exercised unusual self-restraint, but with Cox in he entirely changed his method. He took an aerciless style that a quarter of an hour way in such thought his, core to 100. By lunchtime he was 127, with the total at 184, and when half an hour after the resump-tion the Soluti minings closed he was not out 189.

At one period Jessop scored 33 off three successive. He hit all round the wicket with great power 3pd deter-mination, and despite the pace at which he got his runs gave no actual chance. Indeed, beyond three dangerous strokes, scarcely any fault could be found with what was simings lasted plat over two hours, and included twenty-six 4's.

The South Africans, batting for less than two hours,

Six 4's.

The South Africans, batting for less than two hours, lost six wickets for 118 runs, and at the close were 119 behind with four wickets in hand. Sinclair hit two 6's

SOUTH OF ENGLAND. | Hearne (A.) b Schwarz. | M. W. Payne, c and b Schwarz | M. Schwarz | M. W. Payne, c and b Schwarz | M. W. Payne, c and b Schwarz | 19 Braund, c. Hailwell b Schwarz | 10 Sch BOWLING ANALYSIS.

SOUTH OF ENGLAND.—First Innings.

o. In. r. w.

13 1 64 2 Kotze ... 8

19.3 3 68 6 Tancred ... 1

8 2 29 0 Schwarz bowled one wide,

JESSOP IN FORM.

Against the South Africans He Makes 50 in Fifteen Minutes.

If only G. L. Jessop scored right through the season as he did at Hastings yesterday, what a draw he would be! Whatever might be Gloucestershire's position in the County Championship table, there would be no doubt they would be very nearly at the top of the tree from a financial point of view.

It is rather doubtful, however, if the cricket enthusiasts of the western shire realise the greatness of their county captain. A batsman is often without honour in his own county.

Jessop is spasmodically brilliant, and herein lies his Jessop is spasmodically brilliant, and herein lies his charm. If he were as soundly consistent as, say, Hayward, the scoring of a big innings would be looked forward to, as a common occurrence. But nobody knows what Jessop will do. It may be a laborious dozen or a

Who will forget the "Croucher's" brilliant 104 in the Who will forget the "Crouther's" brilliant 108 in the final test match of 1082, a the Cval, when things were going badly with England? It was one of the most masterly displays ever wimessed on a cricket field. Although he has scored faster centuries, his masterpiece was by no means a slow one. The great "R.P." like to see a man fight gagainst odds with his back to the to see a man fight gagainst odds with his back to the wall, and they any Jessop in this attitude then, and England won a memerable match.

At the beginning of his imajons for the South of England against the South African yesterday he gave no indication of the socied things in store. After received.

England against the South Avients yesterday he gave no indication of the good things in store. After reschoan only describe the next fiftern minutes. Kotte, Schwarz, Sinclair, all were treated alike, and our visitors must have been aghast at the scant courtesy Jessop showed them. In that fiftern minutes the Clonectier captain raised. In that fiftern minutes of the Comment is symptribuss. Once before this season did Jessop give such another display of "reworks," but it did not equal yesterdays' rate, which must be a record. At Bristol in May he scored 6.1 in treatly-four minutes against Someret off teenty-four bulls. See the control of the cont

CHAMPION CYCLISTS TRAINING.

Ideal weather favoured the practice of the competitors in next Thursday and Saturday's cycling contests at the Crystal Palace track yesterday.

The most important arrival during the morning was

The most important arrival during the merning was Ivor Lawson, the American, competing in two kilometres professional race. He put in useful work during the afternoon, as also did Marcus Hurley, the American anatter, who won his heat in grand style on Saturday. G. A. Olley, who rides in the 100 kilometres anateur paced race, was out for practice behind the same motor which paced Walthout to victory on Saturday. The vegetarian rode splendidly at an even pace of forty miles as hour. Oscar Goerche, the Yankee amateur, who will figure in the same event, did thirty-five miles an hour in a practice spin. Lean Meredith rode eight miles in In a trial spirit Hurley beat flenkins, the latter subsequently defeating the American.

A great race is anticipated between Olley and Meredith of the State o ional.

The Italian rider, Gerbi, who met with an accident on Saturday, is progressing favourably at the Norwood Cottage Hospital.

SPORTING NEWS ITEMS.

An interesting golf match was played over the North Berwick course yesterday between Mr. A. J. Balfour and Mr. Guy Pym, M. P. The Prime Minister played a strong game, became dormy at the fourteenth hole, and finally won by 4 up and 3 to play.

It has been decided at a meeting at Leeds of support the game to form a first-class professional Associable, to be entitled Leeds City Club, and to take forthwith, the ground belonging to Holbeck Club, is in the Second Division of the Northern Eughy U

The Metropolitan Railway Neasden Works Swimming Club held a 449 yards race at Rickmanworth for a cup presented by Mr. Irwin E. B. Cox, M.P. The result was a win for F. Thomas, time, 7min.; W. C. Smith was a country of the control o mall Advertisements

re received at the offices of the "Daily dirror," 45 and 46, New Bond Street, W., and Carmelite Street, E.C., between the hours of and 5 (Saturdays, 10 to 2), for insertion in the issue of the following day, at the rate of 12 ords 1/- (Id. each word afterwards). Advertisements, if sent by post, must be accompanied to postal orders (stamps will not be occepted.).

"Daily Mirror" advertisers can have replies their advertisements sent free of charge to the "Daily Mirror" Offices, a box department awing been opened for that purpose. Hree-lies are to be forwarded, sufficient stamps occover postage must be sent with the devertisement.

SITUATIONS VACANT.

NERAL wanted for town and suburbs; wages 2; easy place.—Call to-day and to-morrow Mrs. Bondst, W.

ENERAL, for a flat in Hampstead; small family; help given; wages £20-£24.—Mrs. F., care of Bureau, 45, ENDRAL Servant wanted, strong; age about 23 years—Apply between 10 and 1 o'clock, Matron, Northumand House, Finsbury Park, N.

TCHEN, Findbury Park, N.

TCHEN MAID wanted.—Apply Matton, Northumberland
House, Findbury Park, N., between 10 and 1 o'clock.

DV requires Companion-Help; 4 servants kept.—45,

Highfield-rd, Doncaster.

AUNDRY MAID, to help man and wife in cottage laundry; 10s. a week, and all found.—Apply House-ner, care of Bureau, 45, New Bond-st, W.

ARLOURMAID (good) wanted for a flat in the West End; small family; 3 servants; £25,—Apply Mrs. Y, of Bureau, 45, New Bond-st, W.

Miscellaneous.

OUNTANT'S CLERK.—Business man desires some as-istance in spare time to audit books.—Write, stating terms, to Alpha; care of Dixon's, 195, Oxford-st. W. GENTH wantsi (Kyl-Kol, 6), nacked saves quarter ton of coal: one agent's profit one week, £10 10s.; you can do: .-d. Y. 10f. Hoult, Dancaster. BT.—Persons wanted who could tint a small number of prints and posteritis weekly; town or country; good ose.—Addressed envelope, A., 6, Great James-st, London, OUBLE your makery or business; learn to write aktractive advertisements; our magazine teaches you free, and two atamps for first lesson and specimen copy. The to Book, 71, High Holborn, London.

YENING SEMPLOVIMENT, Hondreds of men have three or tour hours to spare daily, and could it if you will also adventage of the control of the control of the country of the control of the c

MARKETING BY POST.

ARGE table Chickens, 5s, 6d.; smaller, 5s, 5d.; Ducks, 4s, pair, fat Gesse, 4s, 3d. each; trussed; pool freeSantry, Beech, 1885 is the PIONEER of high-class
FULLEY, H. PEL, MEKS is the PIONEER of high-class
FULLEY, STATE PROLIST,
TWO Large Specially-fatted Fowls for 5s,
TWO Large Specially-fatted Fowls for 5s,
TWO Large Finest Quality Chickens, 4s,
Large Brown Hares, 5s, 6d. each,
Cala with order; carriage free,
PEAKE, 402-403, Central Markets, London. Tel. 6762
EDICIR vom Rousehold Excenditure—Poultry, Poultry,

EDUCE your Household Expenditure.—Poultry, Poultry, Poultry at lowest market prices; send P.O. Central poly, 25, Farringdon-st, Loudon, for 2 finest quality tickens, 4s; 2 extra large, 4s, 6d; 2 specially-selected; 2 finest country Ducks, S. 6d; 1 large forticem and 1ck, 5s; 2 fine Yorkshire Grouse, 4s, 6d; 2 English tridges, S. 6d; 2 wild Ducks, 4s; all trussed; carriage

OASTING Fowls, 3a, 6d, to 4a, pair; Ducks, 4a,; Geese, 4a, 5d, each; trusseds post free, cash with ordersFarker, Victoria House, Rosscathery, and they direct from the farmers.—Best English meat; Mutton, Joins, Hilles and shoulders, per lb, 7[4d, 1egs, 4d], ebef, silver6a, 7[4d, 1op, side, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5d, 4d, rump, 6a, 7[4d, 1op, side, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5d, 4d, rump
7[4d, 1op, side, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5d, 4d, rump
7[4d, 1op, side, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5d, 4d, rump
7[4d, 1op, side, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5d, 4d, rump
7[4d, 1op, side, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5d, 4d, 7[4d], silver, 1de, 5d, 4d, 7[4d]
7[4d, 1op, side, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5[4d]
7[4d, 1op, side, 5[4d], silver, 1de, 5[4d], silver,

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

LADY wishes to sell lovely 56-guines unright, iron grand drawing-room Pinn full trinbard of massing the self-grand repeater check to the self-grand repeater check to ents should stock the "Anti-Vaccination" everybody interested in this vital question—ind Co., 57, Gracechurch-st, E.C. RED by & Emation—Write for free trial box id. 4, Lloyd's-av, London.

MISCELLANEOUS.

IX TIMES TOO MUCH COAL BURNED,-Write Sugar

Daily Bargains.

NOTICE. — When replying to advertisements addressed to the "Daily Mirror" Office no remittance should be enclosed in the first instance.

Dress.

A. A.—TEAGOWNS, TEAGOWNS,—For the amount of the control of London.

A MANUFACTURER'S Parceis.—Horrockses' long-cloth also trimmed; carriage paid; 2 knickers, 1 chemise, 1 chemise, Nottingham.

BLOUSES.—First autumn designa; made ladles' measur ments; 3s. 11d.; patterns free; testimonials daily.Course, Blouse Specialist, Rushden.

DAILY BARGAINS.

18. 3d. BARGAIN Parcels white Cambric or Damask Remnants, clean, perfect.—" Beatall," Rushden.

211 - BOOTS for 5s. 4d. -2000 Pairs High-class Laddies' and Gont's London West End Boots, to clear; all marked, and worth 21s.; money instantly refunded if desired; grand illustrated catalogue for an amount of the control of the co

A BARGAIN.-Sheffield Table Cutlery; 5-guinea service 12 table, 12 dessert knives, pair carvers and steel Crayford ivory balanced handles; unsoiled; accept 10s. 9d. approval.—Mrs. H., 68, Stockwell-rd, S.W.

BILLIARD-TABLE (secondhand, 2 size), unusually massive; perfect condition; £22;—Cox and Yeman, Ltd., Brompton-rd, London, S.W.

CHARMING Pearl Necklet, together with dainty Brooch, sent on receipt of P.O. for 1s.—Stanbridge, 47, Fawcett-rd, Rotherhithe.

Fawcett-rd, Rotherhithe.

CLUB Shields (our well-known German silver), 7d. each, free.—Tucker, 286, Old-st, London.

DAILY MIRROR" CAMERA.—A bona-fide Camera, which takes perfect photographs; sold for 3s. 9d. to dvertise the "Daily Mirror." See page 2.

"DAILY MIRROR" FOUNTAIN PEN.—Sold for 2s. 6d.

15. New Bondst, W. See page 15.

"DAILY MIRROR" BOUNTAIN PEN.—Sold for 2s. 6d.

15. New Bondst, W. See page 15.

"DAILY MIRROR" GIANT FELESCOPE, over 2½It.

"Daily worth at least 15s.; being sold for 5s. 9d. to advertise the "Daily Mirror"; a wonderful instrument.

Can be seen at 45, New Bondst, W. See page 13.

ASHBOURNE

(Lord Chancellor of Ireland)

LORD ABERDEEN

Write Interesting Articles on

"Should a Man Change His Calling?"

SHEFFIELD LADY

Writes on

"Do Clever Men Make Good Husbands?"

IN THIS WEEK'S

"ANSWERS."

OUT TO-DAY.

B-LOUSES.—Remainder of summer stock, half price; every relative of Bloss to order and measure.—Miss Day, 112, Great Portlanded, h. Rekel, Istes acque charge. The CASANY New Section Rekel, Istes acque charge charge charge and the control of the co

Founces Atlasian bear stole, inset quality uncoffed; sacrifice 27s. 6d; approval—Marjoric 29, Holindoch S.W.

FLAX NURSERY DIAPER, 43d, yard; Ledies' Handkerneids, 2a, 3d, dozon; Collars, 4a, 11d, dozon; Damask Tablesloths, 65tin, 2s, Ldon; Collars, 4a, 11d, dozon; Damask Tablesloths, 65tin, 2s, Ldon; Glax, 4a, 11d, dozon; Damask Tablesloths, 65tin, 2s, Ldon; B.I. Larne, Ireland.

FLAX DIAPER CONTROLLED CONTROLLED

stead, Essex.

UNBREAKABLE CORSETS, Coutil 3s, 11d.; write for free Unbreakable Sample Steel; corsets made to suit any figure,—Corset and Clothing Co., Nottingham. Mention "Mirror,"

UP-TO-DATE Dress Agency, 76, Brompton-rd (opposite

HTELD, Race, Marine Glass; powerful binocular, 10 lenses 40-mile range, with saddler-made sling case; 6s. 9d. worth £2 2s.; approval.—Quartermaster, 2, Olaylands-rd S.W.

Fish Knives and Forks; handsome 4-guines case, 6 pairs; hall-marked, mounted ivory handles; unused, accept 16s, 6d; companion case Desset, 16s, 6d; elaborate 2-guines case Fish Carvers, 8s, 6d; approval.—M. E., 31, Clabahan-td.

Claphamrd.

ROOTBALL (table Rugby); posts, player's ball, spring kick; not approved, money returned; ls.; carriage 3d.—Lewis, C54, Milk-st, Bristol.

GIVEN AWAY.—A new four-shilling piece of music, six V pages, full size, will be sent free present to every reader of the "Daily Mirror."—Forward your address to Music Agent, 280, Caledonian-rd, London, N. Enclose this advertisement and the stamp to over postage of music.

DAIR silver-backed Hair Brushes, eilver Mirror, and silver-mounted Comb; all en suite; lady will sell above for 3st, ed.; worth £7; unsolled; approval.—H. E., 2, Claylands-rd, S.W. PATCHWORK.—Lovely Silks, Velvets; 1s. large parcel.— Madame Rosae, 176, Ramsden-rd, Clapham.

DAILY BARGAINS.

PATCHWORK.—Parcels brocades and silks, 1s. 2d.; lovely plushes and velvets, 1s. 2d. large parcel.—Harris, 57, Fortunegate-rd, Harlesden.

PATCHWORK.—200 large silk pieces; grand assortment; 1s. 4d.—George, 33, Oxford-rd, Lower Edmonton.

READING Cases (useful and handsome); will hold six la. 5d.—Potal orders to 2. Carmelitest, London, E.C. S'ILVER Keyless Lady's Watch; small size, reliable time-these, 5d., Aldregatest, London.

SILVER-MOUNTED Table Cutlery, hall-marked; elegant would 10-pulses service, 27s. cd.; 12 table, 12 deserving the control of th

Plentin Towels alighty soiled; splendid bargains; Shill Splendid bargai

TOLSTOY'S Great Letter on the Present War, entitled,
"Bethink Yourselves"; 4d. post free.—The Free Age Press, 15, Paternoste-row, London.

DAVIS AM D. D. DER 13. PANNERIOKERS, AM D. D. DER 14. PANNERIOKERS, AM D. D. DER 15. DE 15.

Depress, 10/6 HANDSOME 18-CARAT GEORGE TO 10/6 LADYS HAND

Approxis. Any S. 66. So. SOLID GOLD. Gistampol. REV. Approxis. Approxis. Any S. 66. So. SOLID GOLD. Gistampol. REV. Solid Gold. Gistampol. Gistamp

O. DAVIS, PAWNBROKER,
C. 25. DENMARK-HILL, LONDON.
GREAT CLEARANGE SALUE-FFULL LIST POST FREE

9/6. GENT: S. MAGNIFICIENT 18-CARAT GOLDCARDED CHERONGERAPH. STOP WATOUS, levelled movement, perfect tunkscoper,
levelled movement,
levell payment DATE HANDSOME 18-CARAT GOLD-D/6 CASED REYLESS WATCH, inwelled move-table long Watch Guard, 16-Carat pold (stamped) filled, ele-gant West End-design; guaranteed 15 years wear. Two payment.

17/9. LADY'S 66 6s. SOLID GOLD (stamped) KEYgraved case, splendid timekeeper, 10 years' warranty, week's 17/9. LABLE WATH, worshed by tunners the control case, and did imakeney. 10 years warranty, week's trial. Sacrifice, 17s, and.

10/6. HANDSOME, 17s, bit. SERVICE, SHEFFIELD LABOR. 17s, bit. Shervice, 17s, b proval before payment.

9/6. MAGNIFICENT £3 3s. 4-plate HAND CAMERA; takes 12 plates, time and snapshot shutter, with developing and printing accessories; sacrifice, 9s. 6d. Apdeveloping and printing accessories, as a provent willingly, S/6. The hard lustrous, long Fur Necklet, with handsome Muff to match; worth 3 guineas; sacrifice, 8s. 6d.; approval Muff to match, worth 5 guneas; sacrince, 8s. 6d; approval willingly.

16/92 aluminium trumpel, sere action, with six 1s. 6d. Records; lot, serrifee, 18s. 4d.

10/61 LADYS magnifices ac 25. 8s. end edit shall be action. A series of the serie

QD. WILL buy 3s. 9d. worth of artistic Picture Postcards; sont free; no rubbish or common ones,—Publisher, 6, Grafton-sq. (Japham.

Gration-sq. Clapham.

10-GUINEA UNSOLLED PRESENTATION SERVICE,
Los, egg rooms, 4 salt, 2 muskart, soup and sauce ladies, teas, egg rooms, 4 salt, 2 muskart, soup and sauce ladies, rickel silver; Al quality; stamped makers' initials; approval—Mrs. Bertram, 66, Stockwell-rd, S.W.

Wanted to Purchase.

LADIES' Wearing Apparel purchased; highest prices.—
The Agency, 319, Upperst. N.

STAMP Collections and rare Stamps bought for prompt

BOARD RESIDENCE & APARTMENTS.

FIRST-CLASS Board and Residence, 65, Highbury New Park (two minutes walk from Canonbury Station);

Houses and Proportics.
Holiday Apartments To Let and Wanted.
Partnerships and Financial.
Educational. Advertisements under the headings:

Appear on page 2.

Printed and Published by THE PIOTORIAL NEWSPAPER Co., Ltrp., at 2, Carmelite-street, E.C.—Tuesday, September 6, 1904.